KINGSBOROUGH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Appointment of Richard Fox as Vice President for Institutional Effectiveness

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York approve the appointment of Richard Fox as Vice President for Institutional Effectiveness at Kingsborough Community College, effective June 2, 2015.

EXPLANATION: The appointment of Dr. Richard Fox, who currently serves as Kingsborough’s Assistant Vice President for Institutional Effectiveness and Strategic Planning, to the position of Vice President for Institutional Effectiveness, is part of a major restructuring of administrative responsibilities at the College. The new title is a result of Dr. Fox’s assumption of additional responsibilities, the exemplary performance of his current responsibilities, and the recognition that, in creating a “culture of evidence” at Kingsborough, he serves as the College’s primary collector and interpreter of data. The major addition to Dr. Fox’s portfolio is his assumption of the supervision of the Office of Information Technology Services (ITS). Not only is the mission of ITS critical to the success of the College, but it is also the locus of a significant portion of the College’s financial and human resources. Dr. Fox will supervise Kingsborough’s Chief Information Officer and his sizable staff, and also manage the ITS tax-levy and technology fee budget.

In addition, Dr. Fox will continue his extraordinary work as the leader of the Office of Institutional Research, Assessment, and Planning. He is key to the full cycle of institutional effectiveness: from long-range strategic planning, to the development and implementation of detailed goals, to the ultimate evaluation of programs and initiatives. Dr. Fox has excellent relationships with members of the Kingsborough faculty, with whom he works closely, especially on the assessment of student learning outcomes. As Kingsborough’s Middle States reaccreditation review approaches, Dr. Fox has assumed the critical role of Accreditation Liaison Officer. Dr. Fox also serves on the President’s senior staff.

The President of Kingsborough Community College strongly recommends his appointment.
