A. STANDING COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS: The Chairperson stated that the Committee assignments will be straightened out. He apologized and took full responsibility for what he thought was a process of communication and soliciting the individual wishes and preferences of the Trustees with respect to the various Committees. Unfortunately, a notice listing the so-called final membership of the Committees went out before that process took place. The new membership is to go into effect in October. The Chairperson was pleased to announce that starting in October, Dr. Jacobs will take over the chairmanship of the Committee on Faculty, Staff, and Administration, Dr. Bernstein will become chairperson of the Committee on Academic Policy, Program, and Research, and Mr. Rivera will be chairperson of the Committee on Student Affairs and Special Programs. An attempt is being made to balance the membership of the Committees to ensure quorums. The Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson of the Board will serve as ex officio members of all the Committees and will spell each other to assure senior representation, quorums and maximum participation by Trustees.

B. INTRODUCTION OF CHANCELLOR MURPHY: The Chairperson made the following statement:

Let me begin by saying that, of course, the big news today is the presence, to my right, of our new Chancellor, Dr. Joseph S. Murphy, who has been resting very little in anticipation of his new duties. I think we all ought to give Dr. Murphy a round of applause. When Armand and Harold and I served on an earlier incarnation of this Board up at 80th Street, Joe Murphy used to sit off to the left with the cadre of Presidents and at least one thing is different, Joe, since you left. We now have a long, large, rectangular table, and everybody sits around that table and has an opportunity to participate. I think we’re doing more of that.

I have found Joe, as I know you are finding him, to be reflective, receptive and responsive. He certainly spent most of his summer informally working with all of the constituencies. I know that he is meeting each of you individually, and learning to know you, as you are learning to know him. His intelligence, his wit and his deep understanding of the mission of the University must endear him to us. He is in the process of meeting with every element within the University community and those outside the University, also. He has tremendous energy as well as experience and urbanity. He will need it all.

He will be a great Chancellor. He will make us proud that we selected him.

The new academic year has now begun; a new year has just started on the ancient Judaic calendar; and a new administration is just getting underway at CUNY. This is the eighth day of the first year of our new, exciting, innovating and activating Chancellor, Joe Murphy.

I will have still more to say about him in a moment, but first I want to salute and greet him, and express to him the warm welcome of the Board of Trustees.

This is the year of the two Murphys, unfortunately. We are already getting each other’s mail. David Rockefeller at last addressed something to me after all these years of serving the minions of the banking industry, but he was really trying to get to Joe.

This Board meeting is in many ways a milestone in the history of the University. We are at one of those bends in the road of the life of the University - a turning point from our past course toward the promise of an adventuresome future.

Our actions this year may well determine, for much of the brief rest of this century, the role of the nation’s largest urban university in the life of this, the nation’s largest urban metropolis.

Today we also mark the absence from our midst, and from the world, of our Chancellor Robert J. Kibbee.

That we are able serenely to face the challenges of tomorrow is part of the large legacy left to the University by Bob Kibbee. His steady guidance was our saving grace in the troubled times through which CUNY has passed. We will miss his unwavering dedication to the University’s mission, as we will miss the comfort of his unflapability in the face of whatever adversity.
The University community will have occasion to honor and cherish his memory at a memorial service sometime during the month of November. That will also be an occasion for all of us to reflect on and renew our own dedication to the principles for which Bob Kibbee stood. Quality and access are terms that have become somewhat hackneyed from frequent use. It behooves us not to allow familiarity to jade our appreciation of these paramount commitments and goals of this University.

In the interim between the death of our late beloved Bob Kibbee and the assumption of the Chancellorship on September 15 by Dr. Joseph Murphy, we have had the benefit of the interim service of Acting Chancellor Leon Goldstein. With the acuity of hindsight, I can say that we chose most wisely when we chose Leon Goldstein as Acting Chancellor. He was perfect for the post.

In a few moments, at a later point in these proceedings, I will offer a resolution stating in formal terms our appreciation of Leon.

In now clearing the decks, so to speak, for a new administration, it might be timely, on behalf of the Board of Trustees, to emphasize the leadership role which we expect and look to the new Chancellor to play.

Under our bylaws, the Chancellor is the chief educational officer and the chief executive officer of the Board, of the University.

The Board is the policy-maker, the repository of policy, and the ultimate repository of the legal, fiscal and accounting authority of the University. But the Chancellor is the Board’s chief executive, as well as the University’s chief executive, as the Presidents are the executives of their individual colleges.

The Chancellor is responsible to administer the University, to lead the University, to advance the mission of the University, and to maintain the authority of the Board.

There is always a centrifugal tendency in even the most cohesive body, not to speak of The City University. And there is always an invigorating tension between the central hub and the individual units. That is as it should be.

We of the Board shall look to the Chancellor, and at the same time to the Presidents, to maintain the unity of the University, as well as its health-giving tensions and capability for individual initiative and innovation.

In the past decade, CUNY has made tremendous strides toward providing the finest of educational opportunities to all who have come to our doors. This accomplishment represents the dedication and perseverance of a superior faculty and staff, as well as the achievements of highly motivated students.

The years have given us good times and bad. But the good times have prevailed and we have survived the bad.

The bed of roses to which we invited Joseph Murphy is bestrewn with thorny issues and problems as well as with the petals of CUNY’s flowering successes. Dr. Murphy’s mantle of leadership will carry with it the weight of our substantial expectations.

These expectations include the following:

1. That both educational quality and access to it will be maintained and broadened;

2. That the University’s research activities will bring ever increasing benefits both to mankind and to the man in the streets;

3. That the University will continue to develop a cohesion of organizational purpose, allowing it to pursue its mission and fulfill its legislative mandate - that the people of New York City and State shall be served in all their diverse educational needs;

4. That Dr. Joseph Murphy shall succeed in guiding CUNY to unmatched accomplishments in all these endeavors.
We can expect no less than all of the above, and I am sure that Chancellor Murphy would not have us expect any less.

We are mindful that the road ahead is dangerous and uncertain. We can have no less demanding expectations of ourselves as Trustees than we have of our administrative and educational officers. Our shoulders must bend to assist the Chancellor in his tasks. Our backs must stiffen to share the weight of the load we place upon him. Our vision must be added to his.

This Board will be taking an active role in defining the goals, purposes and policies of the University for this and coming years. And we will be exercising our oversight keenly in assessing the fulfillment of our objectives.

At this juncture let me say that we wish Dr. Murphy the best and that we will support you, Joe, in every way that we possibly can.

In reply, Chancellor Murphy made the following statement:

I think this is the first occasion that I have to thank the Board and the Presidents for this opportunity and this very generous welcome. I am overcome with all the hyperbole, but I realize it is part of our subculture and I think I will quickly get accustomed to it. I may even answer it on occasion.

I want to assure the Board and the Presidents and others who are interested of my commitment to the University and my intention to do the very best job I can for all of you.

I am keenly aware of the complexities of The City University of New York and the uniqueness of The City University. And I understand that it will be a difficult task, shared, fortunately, with a distinguished group of Presidents and administrators, faculty and students, to try to do what no other institution in the country has ever managed to do, which is to combine as its goals, opportunity and justice on the one hand and the highest possible academic and intellectual standards in the country.

I look forward in the years to come for the good counsel, support, friendship, wit and wisdom of everybody here, and I thank you all very much.

The range for these supplements recognizes the varied executive responsibilities required in establishing the new Law School and relates to the range of base salaries for Law School instructional titles.

At this point Mr. Gribetz joined the meeting.

B. BYLAW AMENDMENT:

Section 11.2 Chancellor. A. . . . . the chancellor shall have the following duties and responsibilities: . . . .

c. To prepare, with the advice of the council of presidents, the operating budget and the capital budget for consideration by the board and presentation to the state and the city.

EXPLANATION: The existing Bylaw provides that the University's budget request will be submitted to the City. This provision is obsolete because the University must submit its senior college budget request to the State. The proposed amendment updates the Bylaw to recognize this statutory requirement.

NOTE: Matter underlined is new.
At this point Mr. Rivera left the meeting.

NO. 7. COMMITTEE ON STUDENT AFFAIRS AND SPECIAL PROGRAMS: RESOLVED, That the following item be approved:

A. HUNTER COLLEGE - STUDENT ACTIVITY FEE INCREASE:

RESOLVED, That the student activity fee paid by Evening Session students at Hunter College be increased from $10.00 to $14.50 per semester, effective the Spring 1983 semester; and that $14.00 of the fee constitute the Student Government Fee and fifty cents (50 cents) constitute the University Student Government Activity Fee.

EXPLANATION: The student activity fee schedule represents a $4.50 increase in the Evening Session student activity fee. A referendum was held in accordance with CUNY Bylaw Section 15.10(f) in conjunction with student government elections held May 17 through May 20, 1982. A total of 437 students signed the petition for the referendum. The vote was 127 in favor and 79 opposed to the fee increase. The college president supports the fee increase. The fee increase will enable the student government newspaper to be published on a monthly rather than quarterly basis; will support social and cultural activities; and will pay for a yearbook or United States Student Association (USSA) membership. The fee increase of $4.50 was locally earmarked at the college by the referendum as follows: (1) $2.00 for social and cultural activities; (2) $2.00 for the Evening Session Newspaper; and (3) $5.00 for a graduation yearbook or United States Student Association (USSA) membership (the choice to be made by the Evening student government).

My cup runneth over. I can only say that I want to thank the members of this outstanding Board, thank the Presidents, my colleagues, whom I hope to join very shortly, and thank Irv Glasser who has been at Kingsborough and has done a wonderful job. One reflects when things go so well without you. I can’t but help to think that - well, thank you, Irv, for performing so well.

At this point Mr. Badillo joined the meeting.

NO. 10. UNIVERSITY STUDENT SENATE CENSURE: Mr. Marchant called attention to the statement in the minutes of the Board meeting of June 28, 1982 that a report on the matters listed in the censure of the University by the University Student Senate would be prepared and stated that this report has not as yet been presented. The Chairperson stated that the new administration is working on the matter and a report would be forthcoming. The Chancellor stated that a dialogue has been started and will be continued. Some of the issues raised can be addressed. Others are complicated and cannot be resolved quickly.

NO. 11. MEDGAR EVERS COLLEGE: Mr. Marchant requested that a presidential search committee for Medgar Evers College be named expeditiously and that the governance plan of the College be reinstated. Upon motions duly made seconded and carried, the meeting was adjourned at 5:37 P.M.
