Chairperson Benno Schmidt called the meeting to order, and stated that the Board will go into Executive Session to discuss personal matters after the conclusion of the Public meeting. He announced that the following notice would be entered into the record of this Public meeting:

“The meetings of the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York are open to the public, and the Board welcomes the interest of those who attend. The public has ample opportunity to communicate with the Board. Public hearings on the Board’s policy calendar are scheduled one week prior to the Board’s regular meetings and members of the public who wish to communicate with the Board are invited to express their views at such public hearings. Furthermore, the Board holds additional public hearings each year in all of the five boroughs at which members of the public may also speak. In addition, written communications to the Board are distributed to all Trustees.

The Board must carry out the functions assigned to it by law and therefore will not tolerate conduct by members of the public that disrupts its meetings. In the event of disruptions, including noise which interferes with Board discussion, after appropriate warning, the Chairman will ask the security staff to remove persons engaging in disruptive conduct. The University may seek disciplinary and/or criminal sanctions against persons who engage in conduct that violates the University’s rules or State laws which prohibit interference with the work of public bodies.”

A. VIDEOTAPING OF BOARD MEETING: Chairperson Schmidt announced that as usual CUNY-TV is making available this important community service by transmitting the Public Session of this afternoon’s meeting of the Board of Trustees live on cable Channel 75. The meeting is also being webcast live and can be accessed by going to www.cuny.edu. The Public Session of this afternoon’s Board meeting will be available as a podcast within 24 hours and can be accessed through the CUNY website.

Chairperson Schmidt stated that on behalf of the Board, he would like to warmly welcome newly appointed Trustee Brian Oberfell who is a senior partner at the law firm of Emmet, Marvin & Martin, LLP and who has a deep lifelong commitment to education. Congratulations Trustee Oberfell on your unanimous confirmation by the New York State Senate. We look forward to working with you. We have been in touch with our colleague, former Trustee Sam Sutton to thank him for his dedicated service to the University.

Chairperson Schmidt stated that on behalf of the Board, he would also like to offer his congratulations to Dr. Terrance Martell who has been elected as Chair of the University Faculty Senate, and as such is the new Trustee representing the faculty. Dr. Martell is the Director of the Weissman Center for International Business at Baruch College, where he is also the Saxe Distinguished Professor of Finance. We know Dr. Martell well from his membership on the Board's Committee on Fiscal Affairs, the Subcommittee on Investment, and the Subcommittee on Audit. Welcome Terry, we look forward to working with you.

Statement of Dr. Sandi Cooper:
Dr. Terry Martell has served as Vice Chair of the University Faculty Senate for the past two years. He has been devoted, and hardworking, and brought to the Senate a position and a point of view that was not available before. I am delighted to pass this job on to him. You have no idea how happy this makes me and good luck.

Chairperson Schmidt stated that congratulations are in order to Trustee Rita DiMartino who recently received the Global Spanish Latino Awards’ 2012 Lifetime Achievement Award of individuals of Puerto Rican Descent. Congratulations also to CUNY Law School Associate Dean Mary Lu Bilek, who was recently named as the new top administrator of the UMASS School of Law at Dartmouth. This took place just a few months after former Associate Dean Penelope Andrews accepted the leadership of the Albany Law School. It appears that the CUNY School of Law has become a launching pad for law school deans. This is yet another example of CUNY Law School's recent success.

Chairperson Schmidt stated that the Board held its Bronx Borough Hearing on Monday, June 18, 2012. Board Vice Chairperson Philip Berry chaired the hearing that was also attended by Trustees Hugo Morales, Kafui Kouakou and Sandi Cooper, members of the chancellory and the Bronx College presidents or their representatives. A summary of the proceedings has been circulated to the Trustees and the Chancellor’s cabinet and a transcript of that hearing is available in the Office of the Secretary.

Chairperson Schmidt stated that he would like to extend his deepest condolences to the family of Dr. Richard Trent who passed away on June 9th. A World War II veteran, Richard received his doctorate from Columbia University in 1955. He was the founding president of Medgar Evers College, and served from March 1970 to October 1982. He returned to teaching at Brooklyn College after his retirement. He will be deeply missed.

E. ORAL REPORT OF THE CHANCELLOR: Chancellor Goldstein presented the following report:

Mr. Chairman, let me echo your words of welcome to Trustee Brian Obergfell. We look forward to working with you. University Faculty Senate Chair and Trustee Terrence Martell, we welcome you as well and look forward to working with the senate.

This is always a joyous and celebratory time of year. An estimated 47,000 CUNY degrees were conferred during the 2011-2012 academic year: 14,800 associate degrees, 21,500 baccalaureate degrees and 11,000 graduate degrees. This represents a 37.6 percent increase since 2001. During that period of time the University has worked very hard to increase our standards quite significantly. And those who were naysayers of this reform movement that followed the report by the committee that was chaired by Chairperson Schmidt now have something to reflect upon because we have never seen growth of this kind of magnitude in our history and that is something we are all very delighted about.

I want to thank all the Trustees, alumni and friends who participated this year in the commencement ceremonies and graduations across the University. I attended the Macaulay Honors College commencement along with William Macaulay, who has been there every year since he became involved with the college. We were both impressed by where our students are going. They will go to the Albert Einstein College of Medicine for the joint MD/PhD program; Berkeley, Cambridge, Johns Hopkins, MIT, Texas, Michigan and Columbia for graduate programs; Harvard, Yale, Cornell and Columbia medical schools; NYU, Duke, Georgetown and Harvard law schools; and the list goes on. This is something I think we all are deeply proud of. Other students have accepted very coveted invitations to join internship programs at some of the major companies that have their headquarters here in New York City. So to everyone who helped these students launch their extraordinary careers—starting with our faculty, staff and administrators—I thank you for the extraordinary work that you have done to shape these young people and others throughout this University.

Speaking of realizing potential, the results of our ASAP initiative have been amazing. The 2,500 participants in ASAP to date have a combined three-year graduation rate of 56 percent. By way of comparison, for a similar group of CUNY students the number is about 23 percent. Just this month, MDRC, one of the nation’s leading research organizations, confirmed what it called ASAP’s “very promising” findings. In ten years of studying community college programs, it has never seen such large effects. Given these outstanding results, we plan to expand ASAP in order to serve about 4,000 students by 2014. If we are able to raise the money that is needed to make this number even higher we will continue to do so. Our New Community College, now managed at the top by President Scott Evenbeck, is set to open in the fall and incorporates several of the values and experiences we have learned from ASAP.
What jobs are available today for our graduates? Where will the jobs be in the future? What skills are needed for those jobs, and what should we be doing to prepare students for the workforce? Those are the questions that I asked the CUNY Jobs Task Force to address. The task force’s report—called “Jobs for New York's Future”—is now available. All of you have at your places hard copies for you to peruse. This report was sent to the governor, members of the state legislature, the city council, national and local workforce development organizations, national and local foundations and higher education leaders. In addition, copies were given to all constituencies here at the University. I would ask that you take a look at this report because there are things that are new and fresh and we hope to develop a plan for implementation very soon.

I would like to thank Senior Vice Chancellor Frederick Schaffer, our very distinguished general counsel, who chaired the task force, as well as the task force members and interviewees. Most importantly, I want to thank the staff who coordinated and authored the report: Director of Workforce Development Shayne Spaulding, University Associate Dean for Continuing Education Suri Duitch, Leslie Hirsch and Ronnie Kauder from the Center for Urban Research at The Graduate Center and Theresa Desmond of my office.

With respect to the New York City Regional Economic Development Council, let me say that my work as chair of the council continues. This was at the request of Governor Cuomo. In the second round of competition we are competing with a number of other regions in the state for tax incentive support and for capital support. Higher education, business, and industry partnerships will be an area of focus for our next iteration. Joining the group of very distinguished people that I am pleased to be connected with are Speaker Silver, Senator Martin Golden and our own Trustee Wellington Chen, who was asked by Governor Cuomo to be part of that council.

Tomorrow is the inaugural meeting of Governor Cuomo’s New NY Education Reform Commission, comprising education, community and business leaders from across the state. We will examine the current structure of the state’s education system, including teacher recruitment and performance, student achievement, education funding and costs, parent and family engagement, problems facing high-need districts and the best use of technology in the classroom. Governor Cuomo continues to look to us to help and we are very pleased to be asked to be part of that important activity.

With respect to the city budget, I provided testimony on the city’s FY2013 executive proposal at a joint Higher Education and Finance Committee hearing of the City Council on May 18. We continue to discuss the University’s budget priorities with both sides of City Hall, and it is expected that the mayor and city council will shake hands on an adopted budget very soon.

This coming Thursday I will travel to Dallas, Texas, to serve as a panelist with Deputy Mayor Robert Steel at the U.S. News & World Report “STEM Solutions 2012” summit. Our panel is called, “What's Going on in NYC?: Driving Successful Outcomes Through Effective Partnerships.” I look forward to highlighting our many citywide initiatives and partnerships (e.g. NYU Center for Urban Science and Progress, New York Structural Biology Center) as well as the progress we have made in CUNY's own Decade of Science initiatives (e.g. strengthening doctoral programs in the sciences, creating professional master's programs, encouraging undergraduate research). This fall, CUNY will partner again with U.S. News & World Report and the Daily News to host a STEM conference in New York City.

Meanwhile, construction is well under way at the site of the CUNY Advanced Science Research Center on the City College campus and, with the leadership of Vice Chancellor Gillian Small, we are actively recruiting top faculty to direct each of the areas of focus: photonics, nanotechnology, water and environmental sensing, structural biology, and neuroscience. We look forward to the opening of the center which is scheduled for August 2014.

With respect to grant activity here at the University, we estimate that total award activity for the University in the current fiscal year will exceed $400 million. Over the past decade, we have seen award volume increase by over 33 percent; federal support increased by 43 percent; and true research activity increased by over 59 percent. With the ASRC and other new and renovated science facilities coming online in the next several years, CUNY should hit the half a billion dollar mark in total award activity within three to five years.
Chairperson Schmidt, I only reflect about your report that you wrote a dozen years ago and what those numbers were and how they pale with respect to the numbers today. Again, I congratulate our faculty, the ones primarily responsible for this very impressive success that we have achieved and just encourage them to continue with the very good work.

In the non-research areas, some notable grants were also announced very recently, including a $1 million award from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation to support the launch of the New CUNY Community College. I congratulate you President Scott Evenbeck. We also received a $1 million grant from the Robin Hood Foundation to support the scaling up of the ASAP program. Kudos to ASAP Executive Director Donna Linderman. The Robin Hood Foundation also gave us $1.2 million to support our At Home In College program, which works with over 2,000 students in 63 high schools to help them prepare for a successful transition to college. Kudos to University Director of Collaborative Programs Eric Hofmann and Director of the At Home in College Program Daniel Voloch. Finally, we received another $1.2 million from the Helena Rubinstein Foundation to support the endowment created last year to support continuing education scholarships, bringing that total to over $2.1 million. Congratulations to University Associate Dean of Adult and Continuing Education Suri Duitch.

I would like to congratulate President Félix Matos Rodriguez for receiving the “Education Award” at the ASPIRA “Circle of Achievers Dinner” on June 13, as well as being selected as this year’s Grand Marshal of the National Puerto Rican Day Parade, which took place just a few weeks ago. Lastly, just a few hours ago I was pleased to give a keynote address at the Education Update Distinguished Leaders in Education award ceremonies, and three of our very distinguished members of the CUNY family were recognized: Senior Vice Chancellor and Secretary Jay Hershenson and Presidents Tomás Morales and Jennifer Raab. All spoke beautifully and we were very pleased to be part of that impressive ceremony this morning.

Statement of Dr. Sandi Cooper:
I just would like to take this opportunity to ask the Trustees who received a letter that I sent as opposed to my reading it out loud to take the opportunity to read it. There are points in there which were made powerfully last Monday at the public hearing by my colleagues and I really think it is crucial for you to hear and understand what they were talking about. The subject is ways of dealing with transfer that improves rather than destroys the curriculum we have created. The letter is fairly clear. I am not reading it because it is too long and I know you would rather get on with other business. Thank you.

Upon motions duly made, seconded and carried, the following resolutions were adopted: (Calendar Nos. 1 through 8)

NO. 1. CHANCELLOR’S UNIVERSITY REPORT: RESOLVED, That the Chancellor’s University Report for June 25, 2012 (including Addendum, Errata and Table Items) be approved:

a. ADDENDUM – Add the following:

5. COLLEGE OF STATEN ISLAND – APPOINTMENT OF FRED NAIDER AS INTERIM SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT FOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS AND PROVOST:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York approve the appointment of Fred Naider, Ph.D. as Interim Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost at the College of Staten Island, effective August 15, 2012.

EXPLANATION: The appointment of Distinguished Professor Fred Naider as Interim Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs/Provost effective August 15, 2012 is necessitated by the appointment of Dr. William Fritz as Interim President. Dr. Naider will serve up to two years with no immediate plans to initiate a search.

Dr. Naider has a long and distinguished career at the College of Staten Island. He joined the faculty of the Chemistry Department in 1973 and quickly established an international reputation in the area of cell-cell communications, applying the tools of organic chemical synthesis, biophysical chemistry, and molecular biology in highly complementary and synergistic fashion. His experiments have yielded fundamental insight into the transport of peptides through cell membranes and practical guidance in the design of antifungal drugs for human medicine.

In his time at CSI, he served as chair of the Chemistry Department, Acting Dean of Science and Technology, and has served on numerous College and University committees including the Chemistry Department Personnel and Budget Committee, Appointments Committee, Promotions Committee, and Commencement Committee. He is a member of The University Faculty Advisory Committee to the Faculty Senate, the Finance Committee of the Research Foundation and the Board of the Research Foundation of CUNY. In addition, he chaired the 2009 CUNY Nobel Science Challenge Essay Competition in Physiology and Medicine. He also serves on numerous national advisory boards.

Dr. Naider has received many grants in support of his research. His NIH grant has been continually supported for more than 35 years. He has been invited to speak at universities and symposia on a national and international level and has given invited lectures in India, California, Florida, New York, Italy, Germany, and Israel.

Distinguished Professor Naider holds a B.Ch.E and an M.S. in Chemical Engineering from Cornell University and a Ph.D. in Polymer Chemistry from the Polytechnic Institute.

NO. 2. APPROVAL OF MINUTES: RESOLVED, That the minutes of the regular Board meeting and Executive Session of April 30, 2012 be approved.

NO. 3. COMMITTEE ON FISCAL AFFAIRS: RESOLVED, That the following items be approved:

A. THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK - AWARD OF UNIVERSITY-WIDE POURING RIGHTS AND BEVERAGE VENDING SERVICES AGREEMENT BY REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York authorize the University to choose a beverage manufacturer to be the exclusive provider of soft drinks, teas, waters, juices and certain other beverages to the University (i.e., “pouring rights”), in exchange for the payment of royalties and other valuable consideration to the University and college related entities. At the University’s option, such beverage manufacturer also may be granted the right to operate beverage vending machines at some or all of the colleges and the Central Office, in exchange for a commission on sales. The beverage manufacturer shall be a responsive and responsible offeror chosen on the basis of best value after public advertisement and timely submission of sealed proposals through a Request for Proposal solicitation and evaluation process conducted by the University pursuant to law and University Regulations. The term of the contract(s) resulting from the solicitation process shall be either five or ten years, without renewals, as determined in the best interest of the University. The contract(s) may be executed by the University and/or college auxiliary enterprise corporations, and shall be subject to approval as to form by the University Office of General Counsel.

EXPLANATION: At present, the auxiliary enterprise corporations at most CUNY colleges have entered into pouring rights agreements with beverage manufacturers to be the exclusive provider of soft drinks, teas, waters, juices and certain other beverages on their campuses. To provide greater efficiencies and maximize the funds generated for college and University purposes, the University would like to replace the current agreements, which involve different beverage manufacturers, with a grant of pouring rights to a single manufacturer for the University as a whole. This arrangement will not involve the expenditure of any tax levy revenues. It is expected that the exclusive nature of the contract(s), along with rights to the entire University, will provide higher revenues for each of colleges and the Central Office than do the current, individually negotiated agreements. In the event that it does not, no contracts will be executed.

B. THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK - UNIVERSITY-WIDE REQUIREMENTS CONTRACTS FOR MAINTENANCE COMMODITIES:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York authorize the General Counsel to execute contracts on behalf of the University to purchase cleaning, maintenance, and paper products. Purchases will be made pursuant to law and University Regulations through the most appropriate procurement method for each product, either from: a preferred source without competitive bidding through New York State Finance Law Section 162; the lowest responsive and responsible bidder under existing State of New York Office of General Service contracts; the lowest responsive and responsible bidder after public advertisement and sealed bidding by the University; or the responsive and responsible offerer offering the best value after public advertisement of a request for proposals. The contract shall be available for use by the constituent colleges, and the total estimated annual cost shall not exceed $6,000,000 per fiscal year, chargeable to the FAS codes for each college. The contract term shall be five (5) years, from January 2013 through December 2017. The contract shall be subject to approval as to form by the University Office of General Counsel.

EXPLANATION: Currently, Colleges buy a range of commodities at different prices through individual agreements. University-wide contracts for these commodities will maximize the buying power of the University and provide standard products and prices for all of the Colleges. All Colleges will use these requirements contracts to order these commodities for maintenance of the Colleges’ facilities.

C. THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK - DISCONTINUATION OF THE UNIVERSITY’S ACCELERATED STUDY FEE:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York authorize the discontinuation of the University’s Accelerated Study Fee.

EXPLANATION: The Board of Trustees, at its January 27, 1992 meeting, approved a fee structure for accelerated study effective with the Spring, 1992 semester. The fee applies to all undergraduate degree students (and Law students) excluding non-residents, registered for credits beyond the established college limits of 18 credits per semester, except in programs where more than 18 credits are currently part of a semester's regular course of study, or with the approval of the President during the semester in which a student is about to graduate. The college must notify the Vice Chancellor for Budget and Finance regarding those programs where more than 18 credits are part of the semester's regular course load. In those cases involving presidential approval for graduating students, the college must establish a formal waiver process and disseminate the information to students. This fee does not apply to non-degree students, as well as undergraduate non-residents, who pay on a per credit basis regardless of the number of credits for which they register. The fee (depending upon the numbers of credits in excess of 18) varies from $100 to $690. The application of this fee has been an increasing administrative burden over the years. It continues to place greater responsibility for an academic counseling matter on fiscal administrators by applying a fee for taking additional courses which disadvantages many students with limited financial resources. Best practices include the following as requirements for taking a semester course load in excess of 18 credits: college guidelines for appropriate prior credit accumulation and prior grade point average and/or approval of an academic advisor. The application of this fee results in a minimal amount of revenue University-wide. Discontinuation of the fee also has the support of the University’s Office of Academic Affairs.

Report of Fiscal Affairs Committee Chair Joseph J. Lhota:
Following the approval of action items A, B, and C by the committee, Associate Vice Chancellor Matthew Sapienza gave an update on the FY2012-2013 New York State and New York City budgets. Following his report, the Subcommittee on Audit was convened. After the approval of its minutes of March 6, 2012, KPMG gave a report on the 2012 Audit Plan which was subsequently approved by the members of the Subcommittee. Following the adjournment of the Subcommittee on Audit, the Subcommittee on Investment was convened. After approval of the minutes of its meeting of April 2, 2012, the meeting was adjourned to go into Executive Session for asset allocation review and recommendations. After resuming the public meeting the adoption of recommendations to increase Real Assets and Emerging Markets by 5% and 1%, respectively; and to decrease Fixed Income, US Equity and Non-US Equity by 5%, 0.5% and 0.5%, respectively; were approved.
NO. 4. COMMITTEE ON ACADEMIC POLICY, PROGRAMS AND RESEARCH: RESOLVED, That the following items be approved:

A. THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK - 2012-2016 MASTER PLAN:

RESOLVED, That the master plan of The City University of New York, be approved effective June 26, 2012, subject to financial ability.

EXPLANATION: Every four years the Board of Regents of the Department of Education of the State of New York requires CUNY to submit a master plan for the following four years. This plan articulates the wide reaching goals of the university for that period and the implementation process for those goals.

B. NEW YORK CITY COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY - B. TECH IN ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY:

RESOLVED, That the program in Electrical Engineering Technology leading to the Bachelor of Technology at New York City College of Technology, be approved effective June 26, 2012, subject to financial ability.

EXPLANATION: This proposal is for a degree completion program for students already holding an associate’s degree in a related field, including students at City Tech. The program will provide graduates with the theory and skills needed to understand the latest technology and to assist in the design, development, testing and manufacturing of electrical and electronic equipment for a wide variety of industries and applications, including new technologies such as wind, solar and nano-technologies. The college expects the program to be accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology.

C. QUEENSBOROUGH COMMUNITY COLLEGE - CLOSING OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING AND DESIGN DRAFTING:

RESOLVED, That the Department of Mechanical Engineering and Design Drafting at Queensborough Community College be abolished effective June 26, 2012.

EXPLANATION: The closing of this department does not mean that the college will no longer offer mechanical engineering or design drafting curricula. The faculty of the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering Technology voted to accept the addition of the faculty and curriculum of this department into their own. These are two relatively small academic departments in related fields of study. Combining them makes sense both academically and managerially. In addition, the chair of the Department of Mechanical Engineering Technology and Design Drafting is on medical leave and does not wish to continue as the chair of the department nor do any other eligible faculty members. The urgency of an imminent Engineering Technology Accreditation Commission reaccreditation process in 2012-2013 requires solid department leadership and stability. The resolution to combine the two technology departments is backed unanimously by faculty and administration alike.

A separate resolution regarding transfer of the current members of the Mechanical Engineering Technology and Design Drafting to the department of Electrical and Computer Engineering Technology has been submitted for the FSA agenda. A resolution renaming the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering Technology as the Department of Engineering Technology has been submitted to the Chancellor’s University Report.

D. GRADUATE SCHOOL AND UNIVERSITY CENTER - INSTITUTE FOR LANGUAGE EDUCATION IN TRANSCULTURAL CONTEXT:

RESOLVED, That the Institute for Language Education in Transcultural Context, to be housed at the Graduate School and University Center, be established effective June 26, 2012 subject to financial ability.

EXPLANATION: CUNY’S distinct advantage as the nation’s largest urban public university affords it the opportunity to leverage itself as a national center for the study of world languages and cultures at both our senior and community colleges. Among other activities, the Institute would fulfill its mission by collecting data on the teaching of languages other than English; conducting research into the development of translingual and transcultural communication; identifying strategic languages and campuses for the development of academic programs, including summer institutes, language immersion, study abroad and on-line education, and by forging alliances with K-12 institutions.

E. HUNTER COLLEGE - CUNY INSTITUTE FOR EDUCATION POLICY AT ROOSEVELT HOUSE:
RESOLVED, That the CUNY Institute for Education Policy at Roosevelt House be established at Hunter College, effective June 26 2012, subject to financial ability.

EXPLANATION: The Institute is designed to become a major resource for CUNY as the focal point for the discussion and dissemination of the most critical issues in K-20 education policy. Non-aligned and non-partisan, the Institute will provide a platform for policy-makers, scholars, practitioners, and the media to exchange ideas, research, and reform agendas through conferences, panels, visiting lecturers, seminars, and digital publications. The Institute will become recognized as the New York City location for high-level debate about the most important education policy choices facing the nation, and will establish itself as a trusted source of research and opinion on the multiple educational issues facing the nation.

F. GRADUATE SCHOOL AND UNIVERSITY CENTER – PHD IN NURSING:
RESOLVED, That the program in Nursing Science leading to the Doctor of Nursing Science at the Graduate School and University Center be converted to a program awarding the Doctor of Philosophy in Nursing, effective June 26, 2012, subject to financial ability.

EXPLANATION: Currently, students graduating from the Graduate School and University Center’s doctoral program in Nursing Science are awarded the Doctor of Nursing Science (DNS). When the Graduate School began offering a terminal degree in Nursing in 2006, the decision to award the DNS rather than the PhD was made primarily because the other health sciences doctoral degrees awarded by the Graduate School were either clinical outcomes focused research degrees, which aptly describes the DNS as well as the Doctor of Public Health, or practice doctorates such as the Doctor of Audiology and the Doctor of Physical Therapy; there were no PhD degrees in health sciences. However, nationally, over time, the distinctions between the PhD in Nursing and the DNS have eroded and universities across the nation, including CUNY, have begun to offer the practice doctorate in nursing, that is, the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP), for individuals seeking careers as Nurse Practitioners. Between 2008-2010 six DNS programs across the country have converted to the PhD and only four DNS programs, including CUNY’s, remain. By means of minor curricular changes in the DNS curriculum, CUNY faculty are strengthening the students’ preparation to conduct more theoretical research, as is appropriate for a PhD degree. For all of these reasons, CUNY should make the transition from a DNS to a PhD in Nursing degree.

G. COLLEGE OF STATEN ISLAND - DPT IN PHYSICAL THERAPY:
RESOLVED, That the program in Physical Therapy leading to the Doctor of Physical Therapy at the College of Staten Island be approved, effective June 26, 2012, subject to financial ability; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees requests that the New York State Board of Regents amend the Master Plan of the College of Staten Island so as to permit the College to offer the above-cited program leading to the DPT.

EXPLANATION: Currently the degree granting authority for the DPT is held by the Graduate School and University Center, although students opt to study at either The College of Staten Island or Hunter College. Each of these colleges has been operating its accredited program independently for quite some time. Despite the fact that the Graduate Center awards the degrees for students studying at both of these colleges, The Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education has been recognizing and accrediting these as two distinct programs. We are now formally recognizing what has been the structure in practice for a long time. Since The College of Staten Island is currently not authorized to award doctoral degrees, the University is required to request of the New York State Board of Regents that the Master Plan for CSI be amended to include the granting of doctoral degrees.
H. HUNTER COLLEGE - DPT IN PHYSICAL THERAPY:

RESOLVED, That the program in Physical Therapy leading to the Doctor of Physical Therapy at Hunter College be approved, effective June 26, 2012, subject to financial ability.

EXPLANATION: Currently the degree granting authority for the DPT is held by the Graduate School and University Center, although students opt to study at either Hunter College or The College of Staten Island. Each of these colleges has been operating its accredited program independently for quite some time. The Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education recognizes and accredits two distinct programs despite the fact that the Graduate Center awards the degrees for students studying at both of these colleges. We are now formally recognizing what has been the structure in practice for a long time.

I. HONORARY DEGREES: RESOLVED, That the following honorary degrees, approved by the appropriate faculty body, the college president and recommended by the Chancellor, be presented at the commencement exercise as specified:

Report of Academic Policy, Programs and Research Committee Chair Wellington Z. Chen:
Vice Chancellor Gillian Small described a new initiative of CUNY, the HUB for Innovation Entrepreneurship. This is a new CUNY facility established to promote entrepreneurship and provide assistance, essentially services and appropriate space to startup companies created by the CUNY faculty. The HUB is especially important for faculty who receives small business innovation research and small business technology transfer grants. The HUB will occupy 7,100 feet at 215 West 125th Street. It is expected to house about fifteen companies after eighteen months and twenty-six companies by the end of the third year.

Executive Vice Chancellor and University Provost Logue reported on the continued progress of the Pathways project. Colleges are deep in the process of creating new general education courses, the courses of the common core being submitted for approval to a CUNY-wide faculty review committee. Work is progressing well on aligning the first courses for the largest transfer majors. Seven transfer committees have completed their work and four more have begun. Progress is also being made by modifying our software system to accommodate the new academic requirements. Executive Vice Chancellor and University Provost Logue also reported that the New Community College is on track to open as scheduled in September, with an initial class of 300 students. At the end of the summer, the New Community College will have an accreditation site visit by the New York State Education Department and is expected to be accredited by New York State by the end of the fall.

Statement of Chancellor Matthew Goldstein:
The development and support of a Master plan is a big deal for the University because in part it is a lens on our future, but it also is the derivative of where our budget requests come from. It required an enormous amount of work and I would like to acknowledge first and foremost Executive Vice Chancellor and University Provost Alexandra
Logue, who really did the lion's share of organizing and developing the themes for the master plan. Thanks also to the many faculty who expressed interest in helping to define the issues and with the narrative explaining how we are approaching some of the challenges we face. I also thank the large numbers of staff and students from across the University, as well as our college presidents and other administrators, who provided written comments or participated in interviews concerning their areas of responsibility. A number of board members came forward with suggestions and I want to thank them for that. I am grateful to the large number of staff in the Office of Academic Affairs who worked tirelessly to put this together, the members of the chancellery, and finally Brit Kirwan, Chancellor of the University System of Maryland, whom I asked to serve as an external reviewer. Chancellor Kirwan said he had been asked to do this on a number of occasions, but had never seen a master plan as forward thinking, as comprehensive and as well-argued as the one that he saw from CUNY. Kudos to all of you for your good work.

NO. 5. COMMITTEE ON FACULTY, STAFF, AND ADMINISTRATION: RESOLVED, That the following items be approved:

A. THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK - AMENDMENTS TO POLICY ON ACCEPTABLE USE OF COMPUTER RESOURCES:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York approve the amendments to the University’s Policy on Acceptable Use of Computer Resources.

EXPLANATION: These amendments are intended to clarify a number of points that have arisen since the Policy was first approved in 2007, including that:

- The Policy applies to all faculty, whether full-time, part-time or adjunct.
- The Policy applies to both former and current Users of CUNY computer resources.
- CUNY’s rights pursuant to the Policy to review a User’s CUNY account include the right to review personal messages and other information.
- Information in a User’s CUNY account, including personal messages, may also be subject to disclosure under FOIL.
- CUNY Users may include their CUNY affiliation on e-mail and other correspondence and publications, so long as they do not state or imply that they are speaking on behalf of the University.
- CUNY has the right and obligation to copy a User’s account or hard drive, without inspecting it, at any time for preservation of evidence, without notice to the User. This is consistent with CUNY’s longstanding practice of backing up computer files on its servers to protect Users against loss of data, as well as CUNY’s legal duty under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and state requirements to preserve electronic records as soon as it reasonably anticipates litigation of a matter. Please see the Office of General Counsel’s memorandum regarding “E-Discovery” for additional information: http://www.cuny.edu/about/administration/offices/la/advisories/ediscovery.pdf.
- In instances of proposed CUNY review of a Central Office employee’s account without notice, the Chancellor or his or her designee shall determine if the criteria under the Policy for such review have been met.
- CUNY Users may request an exception or waiver of one or more provisions of the Policy. This may be appropriate in situations when, for example, a forensic computing professor wants to demonstrate how computer hackers override security systems.

In addition, technical amendments have been made to reflect changes in technology and the types of computer resources used at CUNY.
POLICY ON ACCEPTABLE USE OF COMPUTER RESOURCES

I. INTRODUCTION

CUNY’s computer resources are dedicated to the support of the University’s mission of education, research and public service. In furtherance of this mission, CUNY respects, upholds and endeavors to safeguard the principles of academic freedom, freedom of expression and freedom of inquiry.

CUNY recognizes that there is a concern among the University community that because information created, used, transmitted or stored in electronic form is by its nature susceptible to disclosure, invasion, loss, and similar risks, electronic communications and transactions will be particularly vulnerable to infringements of academic freedom. CUNY’s commitment to the principles of academic freedom and freedom of expression includes electronic information. Therefore, whenever possible, CUNY will resolve doubts about the need to access CUNY Computer Resources in favor of a User’s privacy interest.

However, the use of CUNY Computer Resources, including for electronic transactions and communications, like the use of other University-provided resources and activities, is subject to the requirements of legal and ethical behavior. This policy is intended to support the free exchange of ideas among members of the CUNY community and between the CUNY community and other communities, while recognizing the responsibilities and limitations associated with such exchange.

II. APPLICABILITY

This policy applies to all Users of CUNY Computer Resources, as defined in Article III below.

This policy supersedes the CUNY policy titled “CUNY Computer User Responsibilities” and any college policies that are inconsistent with this policy.

III. DEFINITIONS

1. “CUNY Computer Resources” refers to all computer and information technology hardware, software, data, access and other resources owned, operated, or contracted by CUNY. This includes, but is not limited to, desktop and laptop computers, handheld devices that allow or are capable of storing and transmitting information (e.g., cell phones, tablets), mainframes, minicomputers, servers, network facilities, databases, memory, memory sticks, and associated peripherals and software, and the applications they support, such as e-mail, cloud computing applications, and access to the internet.

2. “E-mail” includes point-to-point messages, postings to newsgroups and listservs, and other electronic messages involving computers and computer networks.

3. “Faculty” includes full-time, part-time, and adjunct faculty.

4. “FOIL” is the New York State Freedom of Information Law.

5. “Non-Public University Information” has the meaning set forth in CUNY’s IT Security Policies and Procedures found at security.cuny.edu, namely: personally identifiable information (such as an individual’s Social Security Number; driver’s license number or non-driver identification card number; account number, credit or debit card number, in combination with any required security code, access code, or password that would permit access to an individual’s financial account; personal electronic mail address; Internet identification name or password; and parent’s surname prior to marriage); information in student education records that is protected under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) and the related regulations set forth in 34 CFR Part 99; other information relating to the administrative, business, and academic activities and operations of the University (including employee evaluations, employee home addresses and telephone numbers, and other employee records that should be treated confidentially); and any other information available in University files and systems that by its nature should be treated confidentially.

6. "User” means a user of CUNY Computer Resources, including all current and former users, whether affiliated with CUNY or not, and whether accessing those resources on a CUNY campus or remotely.

IV. RULES FOR USE OF CUNY COMPUTER RESOURCES

1. Authorization.

a. Users may not access a CUNY Computer Resource without authorization or use it for purposes beyond the scope of authorization. This includes attempting to circumvent CUNY Computer Resource system protection facilities by hacking, cracking or similar activities, accessing or using another person’s computer account, and allowing another person to access or use the User’s account.

b. Notwithstanding subsection 1.a. above, a User may authorize a colleague or clerical assistant to access information under the User’s account on the User’s behalf while away from a CUNY campus or when the User is unable to efficiently access the information on the User’s own behalf (including as a result of a disability), but delegated access will be subject to the rules of Section 10 – Security, below.

c. CUNY Computer Resources may not be used to gain unauthorized access to another computer system within or outside of CUNY. Users are responsible for all actions performed from their computer account that they permitted or failed to prevent by following ordinary security precautions. CUNY advisories and resources are available at security.cuny.edu.

2. Purpose.

Similarly, use of CUNY Computer Resources for partisan political activity is also prohibited.

b. Except with respect to CUNY employees other than faculty, where a supervisor has prohibited it in writing, incidental personal use of CUNY Computer Resources is permitted so long as such use does not interfere with CUNY operations, does not compromise the functioning of CUNY Computer Resources, does not interfere with the User’s employment or other obligations to CUNY, and is otherwise in compliance with this policy, including subsection 2.a. above. Users should be aware that personal messages, data and other information sent or received through a User’s CUNY account or otherwise residing in a CUNY Computer Resource are subject to CUNY review pursuant to Section 13 of this policy and may also be subject to public disclosure pursuant to FOIL.
3. Compliance with Law.

   a. CUNY Computer Resources may not be used for any purpose or in any manner that violates CUNY rules, regulations or policies, or federal, state or local law.       - Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act
      - FOIL
      - New York State Law with respect to the confidentiality of library records

   c. Examples of applicable CUNY rules and policies include those listed below. Other rules and policies may be found in the Manual of General Policy and on the CUNY Legal Affairs website:
      - Gramm-Leach-Bliley Information Security Program
      - IT Security Policies & Procedures
      - Policy on Maintenance of Public Order (the “Henderson Rules”)
      - Sexual Harassment Policy
      - University Policy on Academic Integrity
      - Web Site Privacy Policy

4. Licenses and Intellectual Property.

   a. Users may use only legally obtained, licensed data or software and must comply with applicable licenses or other contracts, as well as copyright, trademark and other intellectual property laws.

   b. Much of what appears on the internet and/or is distributed via electronic communication is protected by copyright law, regardless of whether the copyright is expressly noted. Users should generally assume that material is copyrighted unless they know otherwise, and not copy, download or distribute copyrighted material without permission unless the use does not exceed fair use as defined by the federal Copyright Act of 1976. Protected material may include, among other things, text, photographs, audio, video, graphic illustrations, and computer software. Additional information regarding copyright and file sharing is available on the CUNY Legal Affairs website.

5. False Identity and Harassment. Users may not employ a false identity, mask the identity of an account or computer, or use CUNY Computer Resources to engage in abuse of others, such as sending harassing, obscene, threatening, abusive, deceptive, or anonymous messages within or outside CUNY.

6. Confidentiality.

   a.    b. CUNY employees must take precautions by following all IT Security Policies and Procedures to protect the confidentiality of Non-Public University Information encountered in the performance of their duties or otherwise.

7. Integrity of Computer Resources. Users may not install, use or develop programs intended to infiltrate or damage a CUNY Computer Resource, or which could reasonably be expected to cause, directly or indirectly, excessive strain or theft of confidential data on any computing facility. This includes, but is not limited to, programs known as computer viruses, Trojan horses, and worms. Users should consult with the IT director at their college before installing any programs on CUNY Computer Resources that they are not sure are safe or may cause excessive strain.

      - chain letters, virus hoaxes or other e-mail transmissions that potentially disrupt normal e-mail service;
      - spamming, junk mail or other unsolicited mail that is not related to CUNY business and is sent without a reasonable expectation that the recipient would welcome receiving it;
      - the inclusion on e-mail lists of individuals who have not requested membership on the lists, other than the inclusion of members of the CUNY community on lists related to CUNY business; and
      - downloading of large videos, films or similar media files for personal use.

   b. CUNY has the right to require Users to limit or refrain from other specific uses if, in the opinion of the IT director at the User’s college, such use interferes with efficient operations of the system, subject to appeal to the President or, in the case of central office staff, to the Chancellor.

9. CUNY Names and Trademarks.

   a. CUNY names, trademarks and logos belong to the University and are protected by law. Users of CUNY Computer Resources may not state or imply that they speak on behalf of CUNY or use a CUNY name, trademark or logo without authorization to do so. Affiliation with CUNY does not, by itself, imply authorization to speak on behalf of CUNY.

   b. Notwithstanding subsection 9.a. above, CUNY employees and students may indicate their CUNY affiliation on e-mail, other correspondence, and in academic or professionally-related research, publications or professional appearances, so long as they do not state or imply that they are speaking on behalf of the University.

10. Security.

   a. CUNY employs various measures to protect the security of its computer resources and of Users’ accounts. However, CUNY cannot guarantee such security. Users are responsible for engaging in safe computing practices such as guarding...
11. Filtering. CUNY reserves the right to install spam, anti-malware, and spyware filters and similar devices if necessary in the judgment of CUNY’s Office of Information Technology or a college IT director to protect the security and integrity of CUNY Computer Resources. CUNY will not install filters that restrict access to e-mail, instant messaging, chat rooms or websites based solely on content, unless such content is illegal, such as child pornography sites.

12. Confidential Research Information. Principal investigators and others who use CUNY Computer Resources to collect, examine, analyze, transmit or store research information that is required by law or regulation to be held confidential or for which a promise of confidentiality has been given are responsible for taking steps to protect such confidential research information from unauthorized access or modification. In general, this means storing the information on a computer or auxiliary hard drive that provides strong access controls (passwords) and encrypting files, documents, and messages for protection against inadvertent or unauthorized disclosure while in storage or in transit over data networks. Robust encryption and passwords must be used to protect Non-Public University Information, and is strongly recommended for information stored electronically on all computers, especially portable devices such as notebook computers, Personal Digital Assistants (PDAs), and portable data storage (e.g., auxiliary hard drives, memory sticks) that are vulnerable to theft or loss, as well as for information transmitted over public networks. Software and protocols used should be reviewed and approved by CUNY’s Office of Information Technology. In addition, the steps taken to protect such confidential research information should be included in submissions to the CUNY Institutional Review Board reviewing the research protocol.

13. CUNY Access to Computer Resources.

a. Copying. CUNY may copy a User’s account and/or hard drive on a CUNY Computer Resource, without monitoring or inspecting the contents of such account and/or hard drive, at any time for preservation of data or evidence, without notice to the User.

b. General Monitoring Practices. CUNY does not routinely monitor, inspect, or disclose individual usage of CUNY Computer Resources without the User’s consent. In most instances, if the University needs information located in a CUNY Computer Resource, it will simply request it from the author or custodian. However, CUNY IT professionals and staff do regularly monitor general usage patterns as part of normal system operations and maintenance and might, in connection with these duties, observe the contents of web sites, e-mail or other electronic communications. Except as provided in this policy or by law, these individuals are not permitted to seek out contents or transactional information, or disclose or otherwise use what they have observed. Nevertheless, because of the inherent vulnerability of computer technology to unauthorized intrusions, Users have no guarantee of privacy during any use of CUNY computer resources or in any data in them, whether or not a password or other entry identification or encryption is used. Users may expect that the privacy of their electronic communications and of any materials stored in any CUNY Computer Resource dedicated to their use will not be intruded upon by CUNY except as outlined in this policy.

c. Monitoring without Notice.

i. Categories. CUNY may specifically monitor or inspect the activity and accounts of individual users of CUNY computer resources, including individual login sessions, e-mail and other communications, without notice, in the following circumstances:
   A. when the User has voluntarily made them accessible to the public, as by posting to Usenet or a web page;
   B. when it is reasonably necessary to do so to protect the integrity, security, or functionality of CUNY or other computer resources, as determined by the college chief information officer or his or her designee, after consultation with CUNY’s chief information officer or his or her designee;
   C. when it is reasonably necessary to diagnose and resolve technical problems involving system hardware, software, or communications, as determined by the college chief information officer or his or her designee, after consultation with CUNY’s chief information officer or his or her designee;
   D. when it is reasonably necessary to determine whether CUNY may be vulnerable to liability, or when failure to act might result in significant harm, significant loss of evidence, as determined by the college president or a vice president designated by the president or, in the case of the Central Office by the Chancellor or his or her designee, after consultation with the Office of General Counsel and the Chair of the University Faculty Senate (if a current CUNY faculty member’s account or activity is involved) or Vice Chair if the Chair is unavailable;
   E. when there is a reasonable basis to believe that CUNY policy or federal, state or local law has been or is being violated, as determined by the college president or a vice president designated by the president or, in the case of the Central Office by the Chancellor or his or her designee, after consultation with the Office of General Counsel, and the Chair of the University Faculty Senate (if a current CUNY faculty member’s account or activity is involved) or Vice Chair if the Chair is unavailable;
   F. when an account appears to be engaged in unusually unusual or unusually excessive activity, as indicated by the monitoring of general activity and usage patterns, as determined by the college president or a vice president designated by the president and the college chief information officer or his or her designee, after consultation with the Office of General Counsel, and the Chair of the University Faculty Senate (if a current CUNY faculty member’s account or activity is involved) or Vice Chair if the Chair is unavailable; or
   G. as otherwise required by law.

ii. Procedures. In those situations in which the Chair of the University Faculty Senate is to be consulted prior to monitoring or inspecting an account or activity, the following procedures shall apply:
   A. if the monitoring or inspection of an account or activity requires physical entry into a faculty member’s office, the faculty member shall be advised prior thereto and shall be permitted to be present to observe, except where specifically forbidden by law; and
   B. the college president or the Chancellor, as the case may be, shall report the completion of the monitoring or inspection to the Chair and the CUNY employee affected, who shall also be told the reason for the monitoring or inspection, except where specifically forbidden by law.

iii. Other Disclosure. A. CUNY, in its discretion, may disclose the results of any general or individual monitoring or inspection to appropriate CUNY personnel or agents, or law enforcement or other agencies. The results may be used in college disciplinary proceedings, discovery proceedings in legal actions, or otherwise as is necessary to protect the interests of the University.
14. Waiver of Policy

a. A CUNY employee or student may apply to the General Counsel for an exception or waiver from one or more of the provisions of this policy. Such application may be for a single use or for periodic or continuous uses, such as in connection with a course or program. Any application for a waiver should be made prior to using the CUNY Computer Resource for the purposes described in the application.

b. The written waiver application must state:
   i. the policy provision or provisions for which the User is seeking a waiver;
   ii. how the User plans to use CUNY Computer Resource to be covered by the waiver and the reasons why the User believes a waiver should be approved;
   iii. if the waiver involves confidential research information, what steps will be taken to protect such information;
   iv. the length of time for which the waiver is being requested; and
   v. if a student, how and by whom the student will be supervised.

c. The General Counsel shall consult with the CUNY’s chief information officer and the president of the applicant’s college (or, if the applicant is a Central Office employee, the Chancellor) or their designees, prior to making a determination regarding the application.

d. Users should be aware that CUNY cannot waive federal, state or local law; for example, the contents of CUNY Computer Resources (including confidential research information) may be subject to a valid subpoena regardless of the terms of any waiver.

15. Enforcement.

a. Violation of this policy may result in suspension or termination of an individual’s right of access to CUNY Computer Resources, disciplinary action by appropriate CUNY authorities, referral to law enforcement authorities for criminal prosecution, or other legal action, including action to recover civil damages and penalties.

b. Violations will normally be handled through the University disciplinary procedures applicable to the relevant User. For example, alleged violations by students will normally be investigated, and any penalties or other discipline will normally be imposed, by the Office of Student Affairs.

c. CUNY has the right to temporarily suspend computer use privileges and to remove from CUNY computer resources material it believes violates this policy, pending the outcome of an investigation of misuse or finding of violation. This power may be exercised only by the president of each college or the Chancellor.

16. Additional Rules. Additional rules, policies, guidelines and/or restrictions may be in effect for specific computers, systems, or networks, or at specific computer facilities at the discretion of the directors of those facilities. Any such rules which potentially limit the privacy or confidentiality of electronic communications or information contained in or delivered by or over CUNY Computer Resources will be subject to the substantive and procedural safeguards provided by this policy.

17. Disclaimer.

a. CUNY shall not be responsible for any damages, costs or other liabilities of any nature whatsoever with regard to the use of CUNY Computer Resources. This includes, but is not limited to, damages caused by unauthorized access to CUNY Computer Resources, data loss, or other damages resulting from delays, non-deliveries, or service interruptions, whether or not resulting from circumstances under the CUNY’s control.

b. Users receive and use information obtained through CUNY Computer Resources at their own risk. CUNY makes no warranties (expressed or implied) with respect to the use of CUNY Computer Resources. CUNY accepts no responsibility for the content of web pages or graphics that are linked from CUNY web pages, for any advice or information received by a user through use of CUNY Computer Resources, or for any costs or charges incurred by a user as a result of seeking or accepting such advice or information.

c. CUNY reserves the right to change this policy and other related policies at any time. CUNY reserves any rights and remedies that it may have under any applicable law, rule or regulation. Nothing contained in this policy will in any way act as a waiver of such rights and remedies.

B. THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK - ADOPTION OF A SALARY PLAN FOR TITLES WITHIN THE EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION PLAN:

WHEREAS, Executive Compensation Plan (ECP) resolutions in 1987, 1994, and 2000 state “that periodically . . . but no less frequently than every five years, the Board of Trustees shall review national peer data to compare and reassess its Executive Compensation (Salary) Plan” (Board Minutes 10/26/87, 6/27/94, and 2/22/2000); and

WHEREAS, On June 26, 2006, the Board of Trustees approved a Revised Salary Plan which was based on a review of market data and best practices in higher education conducted by the firm of William M. Mercer, Inc.; and
WHEREAS, The Salary Plan Report adopted by the Board of Trustees on June 26, 2006, similarly requires a periodic assessment of the Salary Plan “no less frequently than every five years”; and

WHEREAS, In accordance with this mandate, the University engaged the services of William M. Mercer, Inc. in 2003, 2006, 2010 and 2012 to update the market analyses previously performed; and

WHEREAS, Chapter 263 of the Laws of 1987 authorizes the Board of Trustees to establish and implement a Salary Plan for executive staff following consultation with the Governor’s Office of Employee Relations and the Division of the Budget, and further requires the Board of Trustees to file a proposed Salary Plan Report with the Chairs of the Senate Finance Committee and the Assembly Ways and Means Committee and the Director of the Budget at least 60 days prior to the effective date of the Plan; now therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the attached Salary Plan Report for the Executive Compensation Plan dated June 25, 2012 is approved effective September 1, 2012; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chancellor is authorized to take all necessary actions to effect the implementation of the Salary Plan pursuant to Chapter 263 of the Laws of 1987 with the understanding that the Chancellor is granted the authority to make appropriate adjustments to the plan resulting from consultation with the New York State Division of the Budget, and/or the New York State Office of Employee Relations; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chancellor is authorized to issue revised “Terms and Conditions of Employment for Staff Serving in the Executive Compensation Plan,” which provides guidance for implementation of the Salary Plan.

EXPLANATION: The Board recognizes that competitive, market driven compensation for the Chancellor, the Presidents and other senior executives is necessary and critical to the success of The City University of New York and central to the Board’s mandate to continue to improve standards and promote accountability. The primary objective of the proposed Salary Plan is to provide a total compensation program that addresses the need to be competitive with the national market and to acknowledge the complexity of specific institutions while promoting and recognizing individual excellent performance. In order to maintain its competitiveness, the Board has directed that the Salary Plan be reassessed “no less frequently than every five years.” Since the Salary Plan was last updated in June 2006, this review is now necessary.

The proposed revisions to the Salary Plan are based in large part on a market analysis conducted by William M. Mercer, Inc. in 2010 and updated in 2012. The attached Salary Plan Report provides recommendations for salary ranges for each title within the Executive Compensation Plan. The plan proposes six salary structures for all campus executives that mirror the tiered structure of Presidential compensation. A new tier has been created specifically for the CUNYwide and Professional Schools, which includes the CUNY Law School, the School of Journalism, the School of Professional Studies, the School of Public Health, and the Macaulay Honors College. A sixth structure has been designed to accommodate system positions.

The salary ranges for all titles are such that the salaries of all incumbents are absorbed within the proposed ranges. No automatic salary improvements result from the implementation of this new Salary Plan. Movement of ECP staff through the ranges (toward the maximum) will continue to be based on annual assessments of individual performance. Future modifications of individual salaries within the appropriate ECP range will be at the discretion of the Board of Trustees upon the recommendation of the Chancellor. The proposed plan generally provides the Chancellor and the Board with greater flexibility in modifying the terms and conditions of employment for members of the ECP. Under the proposed plan, there is an opportunity to offer a deferred compensation plan to members of the ECP in appropriate circumstances.

The “Terms and Conditions of Employment for Staff in the Executive Compensation Plan,” which codifies appropriate terms and conditions of employment for executive staff, will be revised to conform to changes in the Salary Plan.

University Student Senate Chair and Trustee Kafui Kouakou abstained.
Committee Chair Valerie Lancaster Beal stated that Chairperson Benno Schmidt wanted to speak on this matter. Chairperson Benno Schmidt stated that he would like to suggest one revision based on a letter which he received from the Chancellor. (Appended below)

EXECUTIVE SALARY AND COMPENSATION PLAN

I. INTRODUCTION

In accordance with Executive Law §169(3), the Board of Trustees of The City of New York has established CUNY’s Executive Compensation Plan (ECP). At its meeting on October 20, 1987, The City University Board of Trustees adopted a Salary Plan Report that was developed in accordance with Chapter 263 of the Laws of 1987, which authorized both The City University of New York and The State University of New York to establish and implement salary plans. These plans were to be developed in consultation with the New York State Division of the Budget, and the Governor’s Office of Employee Relations with a 60-day notification to the Ways and Means Committee of the State Assembly, the Finance Committee of the New York State Senate, and the Director of the Budget.

The City University of New York (CUNY) recognizes the importance of recruiting and retaining innovative, highly competent, accountable and visionary leadership. The changing landscape of higher education has required that CUNY periodically assess its competitiveness in the marketplace. The 2006 Salary Plan specifically mandates that reviews of the salary ranges “be conducted periodically, but no less frequently than every five years.” At the request of the Board of Trustees, and in accordance with the requirements of the Salary Plan to conduct periodic reviews of the salary ranges, CUNY undertook the review that follows.

II. SALARY PLAN DESCRIPTION

A. Tier Differential

Under this Salary Plan, each CUNY college is placed in one of five tiers or groupings (in addition to the System Office) based upon the following criteria:

- Ratio of doctoral faculty to full-time faculty
- Percentage of enrollment in graduate programs
- Percentage of degrees awarded in graduate programs
- Five-year average headcount enrollment
- Complexity of regular as well as professional programs at undergraduate and graduate levels

Campuses placed in Research, the first CUNY grouping, are Baruch, Brooklyn, The City College, Hunter, Queens, and the Graduate School and University Center. The second grouping, CUNY-wide and Professional Schools, is comprised of the CUNY Law School, the Graduate School of Journalism, the School of Public Health, the School of Professional Studies, and the Macaulay Honors College. Campuses in the third grouping, Master’s, include John Jay, Lehman, and the College of Staten Island. The fourth grouping, Baccalaureate, includes Medgar Evers, York, and New York City College of Technology. The fifth grouping, Community Colleges, is comprised of the Borough of Manhattan Community College, Bronx Community College, Kingsborough Community College, Queensborough Community College, LaGuardia Community College, Hostos Community College, and the New Community College, which has not yet been named.

B. Salary Ranges

For each tier, the Salary Plan establishes salary ranges for ECP titles. As in earlier salary plans, there is overlap in the ranges between tiers that allows individual salaries to be based upon several factors, including differing levels of experience among executives, varying performance review results, and significant differences in market requirements. Within each tier, the salary of a newly-recruited executive will be determined by his/her background, skills and experience, degrees held, academic accomplishments, special qualities germane to the position, the position held at the time he/she was hired by CUNY, and market conditions. Another factor to be considered will be the size of the CUNY College compared to the institution from which the candidate moved. The Chancellor, in exceptional circumstances, may make offers beyond the maximum of the salary range, subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees.

As in the past, all salary ranges will be subject to periodic adjustment in accordance with the general increases provided for New York State M/C employees. Further, the salary ranges may be adjusted based on reviews of peer and national market trend data for higher education executive personnel, subject to Board of Trustees’ approval. These reviews will be conducted periodically, but no less frequently than every five years. Any modification of salaries within the ECP is at the discretion of the Board of Trustees.

C. Performance Based Salary Increases

The cornerstone of this salary plan is the link between salary and performance. Each year, the Chancellor establishes University goals that drive a set of targets and performance indicators at each campus. The campus goals and indicators are used to set individual executive goals and targets. At the end of each academic year, the Chancellor meets with each President to evaluate the President’s success at meeting the aforementioned college goals. The President’s salary for the coming year is dependent on the particular executive’s contribution and role in that success. The executive’s performance as it pertains to fiscal and academic management, and his/her relationship with students, faculty, and staff is also reviewed. There are no automatic increases. Individual salary improvements are driven by and subject to a performance review.

In rare and exceptional circumstances, the Chancellor may approve the awarding of a salary increase outside of the performance cycle subject to Board of Trustees’ approval. Requests for such special increases require extensive justification detailing how the increase meets a critical college or University need.

As in the past, funds for all performance-based increases and all non-base compensation items identified herein will be absorbed by the University system or by the campuses. Each year, the Chancellor will determine whether performance-based increases will be awarded and the amounts available to fund such increases.
III. SALARY ANALYSIS

As stated earlier, CUNY’s Executive Compensation Plan expressly calls for a market comparison review of salaries to be undertaken no less than every five years. In February of 2010, in keeping with that requirement, the University engaged the services of the Mercer Corporation (“Mercer”) to examine current market comparability data and make recommendations on the salary ranges.

At CUNY’s direction, Mercer focused on the following “benchmarked” titles: Chancellor, Executive Vice Chancellor, Senior Vice Chancellor, Vice Chancellor, System Dean, President (Research Institution), President (Master’s Institution), President (Baccalaureate Institution), and President (Two-Year Institution). After establishing salary ranges for these titles, Mercer derived a salary schedule for the entire Executive Compensation Plan. Mercer gathered data at the 25th, 50th, 75th, and 90th percentiles for the benchmarked positions from recently published surveys, when available, in terms of base salary, total compensation, and actual short-term incentives.

Although Mercer completed its work in 2010, the Board of Trustees deferred consideration of the report. Mercer was asked to age the survey market data and salary structures to March 1, 2012. The Mercer Report, which is attached, was used to establish the new maximums for the salary ranges set forth below.

V. NON-BASE COMPENSATION

Non-base compensation components as provided below are customary and appropriate for senior executives in higher education.

A. Bonus Opportunities

At the time of performance assessment, the Chancellor may authorize payment of lump sum bonuses, which may be awarded in addition to, or in lieu of, base salary increases to individual executives (NOTE: For employees in Tier 1 of the New York City Teachers’ Retirement System, bonuses must be paid from non-tax-levy funds and must be reported to the Chancellor).

B. Deferred Compensation

The Board of Trustees has the discretion to offer deferred compensation to the Chancellor. The Chancellor has the discretion, with the approval of the Board of Trustees, to offer a similar benefit to Presidents and to other members of the ECP. The amount of the deferred compensation and the terms of the individual agreements, including a substantial risk of forfeiture, will be determined by the Board of Trustees, if the recipient is the Chancellor, or by the Chancellor, subject to approval of the Board of Trustees, if the recipient is another member of the ECP.

C. Housing

Senior College Presidents are provided with a campus owned or leased residence or with a housing allowance of $5,000 per month. Community College Presidents are provided a housing allowance of $5,000 per month. In the Chancellor's discretion, the Dean of a CUNY-wide or Professional School may be provided a housing allowance of $5,000 per month. Any President serving in an Interim/Acting capacity receives a housing allowance of $3,000 per month. In the Chancellor's discretion, a Dean of a CUNY-wide or Professional School serving in an Interim/Acting capacity may receive a housing allowance of $3,000 per month. The Chancellor, in the absence of University-provided housing, receives a housing allowance of $7,500 per month.

The Chancellor retains the discretion, with the approval of the Board of Trustees, to provide a housing allowance to other members of the ECP and to negotiate higher housing allowances for individual members of the ECP when necessary and appropriate. The University may periodically modify the housing allowance after a review of cost of living and housing indices, in consultation with the New York State Division of Budget and upon approval of the Board of Trustees.

Individuals who are provided with a campus owned or leased residence are subject to a pre-tax, non-taxable maintenance deduction from their bi-weekly pay.

D. Automobile Provisions

The Chancellor and the Presidents are provided with an automobile and driver. In the Chancellor's discretion, a Dean of a CUNY-wide or Professional Schools may also be provided with an automobile and driver. The Executive Vice Chancellors, the Senior Vice Chancellors, and the Vice Chancellors, are provided automobiles; in the Chancellor's discretion, an individual serving in one of these titles may also be provided with a driver. At the Chancellor's discretion, other members of the ECP may be provided with a...
CUNY automobile. At the President's discretion, other members of the ECP at the college may be provided with a CUNY automobile.

E. Business Expenses

Non-tax-levy funds for business expenses are authorized for the Chancellor and the Presidents, and, in the discretion of the Chancellor, to the Dean of a CUNY-wide or Professional School. Appropriate documentation is required.

F. Memberships in Clubs or Associations

In their official capacities, the Chancellor and the Presidents, and, in the Chancellor's discretion, a Dean of a CUNY-wide or Professional School, may hold University-paid memberships in a limited number of clubs, professional associations and/or organizations. The Chancellor may authorize University-paid memberships in clubs, professional associations and/or organizations for additional members of the ECP in their official capacities.

VI. Pension and Health Insurance

Members of the ECP enjoy pension, health and welfare benefit options as detailed in the Terms and Conditions of Employment for Staff in the Executive Compensation Plan.

VII. Limits to Earning Outside Income

ECP members are permitted to engage in outside consultation and professional activities up to a maximum of two work days per month or twenty-four work days per year. Work days taken for this purpose are to be charged to annual leave. No outside activity may interfere with the executive’s primary commitment to CUNY.

VIII. Study Leaves

Upon recommendation by the Chancellor, the Board of Trustees may grant a member of the Executive Compensation Plan a study leave at full salary during every fifth year of service following the initial appointment or the date of the last leave taken pursuant to this policy, in lieu of vacation leave accrued for that year of service. The leave shall be for the purpose of improving administrative and academic performance. The duration of the leave is in the Chancellor's discretion.

IX. Involuntary Separation and Severance Pay

Upon involuntary separation from positions in the ECP, for reasons other than cause, employees who are not appointed to another position within the University, or employees who resign from all positions within the University shall be compensated in a non-pensionable lump sum paid pursuant to the schedule promulgated in the Terms and Conditions of Employment for Staff in the Executive Compensation Plan. This payment is in addition to any accrued annual leave due the employee.

X. Voluntary Separation

A. Generally applicable rules

Upon voluntary resignation from the ECP, employees receive the balance (if any) of accrued annual leave in a lump sum as set forth in the Terms and Conditions of Employment for Staff in the Executive Compensation Plan.

Section 13.2 of the Bylaws of the University governs retirement leaves from the ECP. Members of the ECP are offered similar retirement options as other members of the Instructional Staff.

B. Retirement Payments for the Chancellor, the Presidents, and the Deans of the CUNY-wide and Professional Schools

The Chancellor and Presidents who serve for seven years are provided one semester’s salary (paid in a lump sum) upon retirement from the University, in addition to any Travia (sick leave) pay and annual leave pay to which they are entitled. In the discretion of the Chancellor, a Dean of a CUNY-wide or Professional School who serves for seven years may also be provided one semester’s salary (paid in a lump sum) upon retirement from the University, in addition to any Travia (sick leave) pay and annual leave pay to which they are entitled.

C. University Professor

The Chancellor may, in his/her discretion, recommend to the Board of Trustees the appointment of an individual as University Professor. To be eligible for consideration for appointment as a University Professor the individual must have served as President of a College of the University for a period of at least eight years immediately preceding such appointment. The appointment shall be for five years. Upon the recommendation of the Chancellor, the individual shall be eligible for one five-year reappointment.

D. Chancellor Emeritus

The Board of Trustees may, in its discretion, appoint an individual to the ECP title of Chancellor Emeritus. To be eligible for consideration for appointment as Chancellor Emeritus, an individual must have served as Chancellor of the City University of New York for a period of eight years immediately preceding such appointment. The salary will be determined by the Board of Trustees. The term of appointment shall be five years. Upon recommendation of the Chair of the Board, the individual shall be eligible for one five-year reappointment.

XI. Other Terms and Conditions of Employment

The Chancellor, with the approval of the Board of Trustees, has the discretion to establish such other terms and conditions of employment as are appropriate to this title series. These additional terms and conditions of employment will be incorporated into the Terms and Conditions of Employment for Staff in the Executive Compensation Plan.
Statement of Trustee Peter S. Pantaleo:
I was a member of this Ad Hoc Compensation Committee. I think a couple of points need to be made that are relevant about this plan, because I believe there is some misunderstanding. As was stated, it is not proposing a raise or an increase for anyone, it is merely a normal executive compensation procedure to have ranges. However, we engaged a consultant to do this and the consultant looked at market surveys and engaged in comparative analysis of peer institutions and systems. It should be noted that we actually did not take the consultant's recommendation on the bottom end of the range. It was necessary for us to actually lower the bottom ends of the range to cover the folks who are actually being paid under that range. Had we accepted the consultant's recommendation, it would have resulted in presumably immediate or pretty close to immediate salary increases. Not that I would specify, I think that is a bad idea, but nevertheless to deal with the realities that we are dealing with irrespective of the fact that peer institutions bottom salary for these job classifications are often materially hire than our bottom salaries for that and notwithstanding the fact that many of these peer institutions are not in markets such as New York that as singularly one of the most expensive places to live in the United States.

Frankly, further notwithstanding the fact that many of the people who are affected at the bottom range of these salary ranges and who will not be getting an increase because we lowered it are handling budget matters and administrative tasks of a highly complex nature for which they would expect to get market based remuneration and they have not. The final thing I would say is we did not consider the fact that others in the University—not the least of which are other professionals within the University—had been routinely getting salary increases and we routinely mark them to market by reference to their collective bargaining agreements, we decided to lower the range. I do think it is important that people understand this is not one, a backdoor way to immediately provide salary increases irrespective of the merits for doing so and that is very important. Further, CUNY now finds itself, based on the reports of Mercer—one of the top executive and management compensation consultants in the world—of paying not insignificantly below market value for its professional and administrative staff, irrespective of that, I would just urge as a member of the Ad Hoc Committee that these salary ranges be approved. They are a small step, but they are nevertheless the best that we felt that we can do in these very difficult times.

Statement of Trustee Jeffrey S. Wiesenfeld:
Just on the last point by you, Trustee Pantaleo, what you very skillfully also tried to skim over is that the years that we have been on the Board—and this question comes up very few years—whether instigated by whatever party, this extreme striving for egalitarianism in every approach on everything that is forced on the Board, even though the Board has taken great care, as you pointed out, to take an accounting of current economic conditions in not providing for the increases that could be provided for if they were relevant to the marketplace. Nonetheless, the Board gets a lot of hell, the chancellery gets a lot of hell and it is just needless rancor with which students and others could be using their energy more productively and they are instigated to get into a conflict that does not even exist where the Board is already conscious of that. That is the one thing that I think respectfully was glossed over and it has got to be made a point, because it does not help the University.

Statement of Trustee Valerie Lancaster Beal:
I will just add that I regretfully accepted the Chancellor's gracious offer to remove his compensation from this study, as we noticed it was a compensation plan, it was not an attempt to institute a pay increase, and I appreciate his willingness to do that. Having said that, please note that the plan was done as we said by outside consultants and reflective of market conditions.

Statement of Chairperson Benno Schmidt:
It should be said that the Chancellor's own compensation is considerably below market, particularly given the enormous complexity and size of CUNY as a system and particularly given the fact that he is the most outstanding public university leader in the country, without a doubt. My efforts over the years to persuade him to take a compensation that more justly and fairly reflects his value to the University and what he would easily be paid were he to go anywhere else, he has resisted that every year because of the general financial exigencies faced by our University system and because of the symbolism entailed in what his compensation level is relative to others at the University. I am going to continue with my interest in trying to move everyone's salaries up to competitive levels because you are just asking for trouble if you do not try to do that and the fact is that if you look at other system heads of anything like CUNY's complexity, I believe they are virtually all compensated at a considerably higher level.
Statement of University Student Senate Chair and Trustee Kafui K. Kouakou:
I would like to note the concerns of some of my fellow students in regard to the increase of the salary ranges. First of all, the reason why there is so much reluctance from the students' side is due to misinformation. The information that was given to the students was that the Chancellor was getting an increase, which was not true. The few students I got a chance to meet with, I was able to explain the situation and tell them that it is just a review of the salary ranges that happens every five years which was conducted. Those I spoke to, their main concern at this point in time, is when will this actual increase be put forward through the Board and their fear is that this might happen in a year or two and they will not feel comfortable with that actual increase in salary being put forward if the tuition increase is going to be happening in the next four years moving forward. The Chancellor was gracious enough to even meet with me to explain that there is not, at this point in time, going to be any kind of increase in any salaries. Still the students feel like since there will be an increase in the tuition for the next five years, there should not even be a consideration of reviews due to the recent wave of student activism, especially starting from the tuition increase. I do not agree personally with regard to that. I believe that if you work for any kind of company your salary should be reviewed from time to time.

Statement of Chancellor Matthew Goldstein:
Trustee Kouakou, I can say that I have absolutely no plans at this point in time to recommend any salary increases for any members of the executive group, which probably numbers close to 500 people here in the University. To say when that would change is subject to lots of variables that are not clearly defined at this particular point in time. For the immediate future there is no plan at all for increases and that was important for everybody to understand.

In response to a question from Trustee Peter Pantaleo, Chairperson Benno Schmidt responded that Senior Vice Chancellor and Secretary Jay Hershenson would arrange for Trustees to have a copy of the Mercer report.

Statement of Trustee Valerie Lancaster Beal:
Mr. Chair, I hope that the correct information and interpretation is shared with our student body after the effect of this vote as well.

E. NEW COMMUNITY COLLEGE - APPROVAL OF INTERIM GOVERNANCE PLAN:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees approve the interim governance plan for the New Community College, set forth in Attachment I hereto.

EXPLANATION: The New Community College will enroll its first students in August 2012. As with other educational units established by the Board, it is appropriate for the New Community College to have an initial governance plan to guide its operations during its early years, with the understanding that as it grows and develops, the College will likely amend the governance plan to meet new circumstances. The proposed governance plan is informed by the Report of the Working Group on Governance and Organizational Structure, comprised of faculty and administrators from across the City University and other institutions, the work of the New Community College Governance Task Force, comprised of faculty and staff of the College and supported by the University’s General Counsel, and broad discussion within the College community. It incorporates a simplified structure appropriate to a small start-up institution with an interdisciplinary core curriculum and a limited number of majors. Over time, there may be a need to include provisions for the election of faculty representatives to the College Council (rather than having all faculty serve), the election of adjunct faculty to the College Council, the establishment of programs and program officers, and other provisions appropriate to a large, highly structured institution.

RESOLVED, That the proposed amendments to the Governance Plan of Queensborough Community College be adopted, effective July 1, 2012.

Governance Plan

NOTE: ADDITIONS Proposed are in bold and underlined DELETIONS are in blocked sections and with crosslines. Most recent additions are green blocked.

The Governance Plan of the College takes precedence over the Bylaws of the Board of Trustees (except where so noted by the Board), the Bylaws of the Faculty, and the Bylaws of the Academic Senate of Queensborough Community College, and all other bylaws, procedures, and regulations of Queensborough Community College. The Governance Plan was ratified by Queensborough Community College in March 1976 and by the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York in November 1976.

The Governance of Queensborough Community College is the concern of all its members. All its constituencies — students, faculty, higher education officers, alumni, and administration — contribute to the maintenance and development of the College. Each has its own particular and mutual areas of concern.

Because each constituency has the right to concern itself in areas that are its responsibility, this document sets forth the organization of the various bodies within the College, and guarantees their autonomy on matters within their jurisdiction. Because the constituencies are interrelated, and because all must participate in the well-being of the College as a whole, this Governance document also provides for the organization of an Academic Senate which, as the policy making body of the College, shall adopt policies not inconsistent with BOT Policies and Bylaws, and shall include students, faculty, HEOs, alumni, and administrators, which shall be the voice of the academic community of Queensborough Community College in all matters affecting the welfare of the institution.

Article VII STUDENT SECTION

A. PREMABLE

1. The student’s freedom to learn is a complement of the faculty member’s freedom to teach. An academic community dedicated to its ideals will safeguard the one as vigorously as it does the other.

2. Free and open discussion, speculation, and investigation are basic to academic freedom.

3. Students receive their college education not only in the classroom but also in out-of-class activities which they themselves organize through their association with fellow students, the student press, student organizations, and in other ways. It is vital, therefore, that their freedom as campus citizens be respected and ensured.

4. Student government shall have as one of its chief functions the regulation of student-sponsored activities, organizations, publications, etc. In exercising this function, no Student Government should be permitted to allocate resources so as to bar or intimidate any campus organization or publication nor make regulations which violate basic principles of academic freedom and civil liberties.

5. Students should be free, without restraint by either the College administration or the Student Government, to organize and join campus clubs or associations for educational, political, social, religious, or cultural purposes. No such organization should discriminate on grounds of race, religion, color, or national origin. The administration should not discriminate against a student because of membership in any campus organization.

On appeal an aggrieved student or group shall be entitled to a hearing following the due process procedures as set forth in Section 15.3 of the Bylaws of the Board of Trustees. Following such hearing the duly elected Student Government shall have the authority to set aside, decrease, or confirm the adverse action.

4. Any person or organization affiliated with the College may file charges with the Office of the Dean of Students alleging that a student publication has systematically attacked the religion, race, ethnic origin, or sex of a particular group, or has otherwise contravened the laws of the City, State, or Nation, or any Bylaw or resolution of the Board, or any policy, regulation, or order of the College; the charges must be filed within a reasonable period of time after such occurrence. If neither party has fifty (50) percent of its members voting, the proposed amendment is deemed defeated.
G. THE CITY COLLEGE OF NEW YORK - AMENDMENT TO THE GOVERNANCE PLAN:

RESOLVED, That the amendment to the Governance Plan of The City College of New York, attached hereto as Appendix 1, be adopted effective July 1, 2012.

EXPLANATION: The City College of New York ("CCNY") proposes a change in the promotion procedure outlined in the Interim Amendment (dated March 27, 1995) to its Governance Plan. The CCNY Faculty Senate approved this amendment on March 15, 2012, and it is recommended by the College President.

Under the existing promotion procedure pursuant to the Board Bylaws (Section 9.6), and the Interim Amendment dated March 27, 1995 to the CCNY Governance Plan (the “1995 Amendment”), promotion at the department level is voted on by the department promotions committee, which is composed of all faculty of higher rank than the candidate considered. In addition, the promotions committee is chaired by the department chairperson. If the chairperson does not hold equal or higher rank than the candidate considered, the most senior person of that department by reason of service becomes the chair of the promotions committee.

The proposed amendment states that, if the department chairperson cannot chair the promotions committee because of his or her rank, the department faculty eligible to vote shall elect a member of the highest rank to be chairperson of the promotions committee, rather than have the most senior person automatically serve as chairperson. Thus, the proposed change will ensure that the department as a whole participates in the election of the chairperson of a promotions committee and chooses a chair among the faculty of the highest rank to serve as chairperson of a promotions committee, rather than defaulting to the most senior faculty member by virtue of service.

In addition, the College wishes to consolidate the 1995 Amendment, which had remained separate, with the existing text of Article IX of the Governance Plan (Departmental Structure), and eliminate certain outdated provisions.

THE CITY COLLEGE
REVISED GOVERNANCE PLAN
ARTICLE IX
Departmental Structure

Each Department and Program shall have a set of Bylaws, under which it will operate, which shall be ratified by a two-thirds vote of the members with Faculty rank of the Department. The Bylaws shall, minimally, include an Article on an executive committee in which, in each Department, the size shall be determined by the total number of Professors, Associate Professors, Lecturers, Instructors, and the full-time equivalent of part-time staff in comparable titles: five Faculty members for Departments with seventy-five or fewer; seven Faculty members for Departments with more than seventy-five but fewer than one-hundred; and nine Faculty members for Departments with one-hundred or more. The Chairman of the Department shall be a member of the Executive Committee, and he will also automatically serve as Chairman of the Executive Committee. He and the other members of the Executive Committee are to be elected at the same time, and for a term of three years. A majority of the Executive Committee shall consist of tenured persons in the Department. The Executive Committee shall serve as the Appointments Committee, the Personnel and Budget Committee (except as set forth below with respect to Faculty Tenure Procedures), and the Committee on Educational Policy of the Department.

The Executive Committee shall consider all matters related to appointments to the instructional staff, and reappointments thereto without tenure; applications for sabbatical and other leaves; and the Departmental budget as submitted for approval by the Chairman. It shall transmit its recommendations to the appropriate Personnel and Budget Committee.

The Bylaws of the Department shall also include a minimum requirement for stated meetings, and shall be consistent with the regulations of the Board of Trustees and The College. Department Bylaws, which shall exist as of the adoption of this document, shall be brought into conformity with this Governance plan.

To ensure student involvement on questions of appointments, reappointments and tenure, the voting Faculty members of each Department must select one of the following plans, by a vote of a majority of those eligible to vote at a regular meeting:

1. that there be elected annually, from among the Department majors and graduate students, two students of at least junior status, who shall sit, with voice and vote, on the Departmental Executive Committee and the Departmental Tenure Committee; or
2. that five students from among the Department majors and graduate students, who shall be of at least junior status, shall sit as a committee in their own right, advisory to the Executive Committee, on matters of appointment and reappointment, and advisory to the Departmental Tenure Committee on matters of tenure, and who may transmit their votes to the appropriate Personnel and Budget Committee. They shall also communicate with the appropriate College or School committees on curriculum and teaching.

Under either “plan a” or “plan b” the nomination and election procedures shall be carried out during the month of April, under the aegis of the Vice Provost for Student Affairs. For students to be legally elected under “plan a” the following minimal participation is required:

a. in Departments with fewer than one-hundred majors and graduate students, no less than thirty majors and graduate students or fifty percent, whichever is smaller, must vote;

b. in Departments with more than one-hundred majors and graduate students, thirty percent must vote.

If this fails, then the Departments shall be under “plan b” provided that at least fifteen percent of the majors and graduate students in the Department have voted. If none of the previous conditions are met, the Vice Provost for Student Affairs will make recommendations to the President as to the appropriate structure. At least each time, at the election of the Chairman, the Department shall consider its choice of either “plan a” or “plan b.”

A new Department may, at the discretion of the President, be exempted from the requirements herein for a maximum of five years after its establishment.

Programs, Centers, and Institutes shall, to the extent appropriate, conform to the guidelines for Department governance described herein.

FACULTY TENURE AND PROMOTION PROCEDURES

A. Promotion Procedures.

Promotions shall be recommended by departmental promotion committees to the School or Divisional Personnel and Budget (“P&B”) Committee, which shall make recommendations to the Review Committee (College-wide P&B Committee), which shall make recommendations to the President. (The School/Division P&B’s generally consist of the department chairpersons. The voting members of the Review Committee consist of the Academic Vice President (Provost), the Deans of the several Schools, and the full Deans of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.) There shall be established in each department promotion committees to consider promotions for each rank, including full professor. All members of the department of higher rank shall be included on the promotions committee of a faculty member who applies for promotion. The department chairperson shall be the chairperson of each promotions committee, except in the event the department chairperson does not hold equal or higher rank than the candidate seeks. In that event, the members of the department will elect a faculty member of the highest rank to be chairperson of the promotions committee. The positive votes of a majority of those eligible to vote, with the exception of faculty members on approved leave of absence, unless such faculty members on approved leave notify the department chairperson of their intention to participate as voting members and attend relevant meetings of the departmental promotions committee, shall be required for an affirmative recommendation for promotion.

B. Tenure Procedures.

Tenure of tenure-track faculty members shall be recommended by departmental tenure committees to the School or Divisional Personnel and Budget (“P&B”) Committee, which shall then make recommendations to the Review Committee (College-wide P&B Committee), which shall then make recommendations to the College President. In the case of departments that are not part of a school or division, tenure of tenure-track faculty members shall be recommended by departmental tenure committees to the Review Committee (College-wide P&B Committee), which shall then make recommendations to the College President.

There shall be established in each department a departmental tenure committee to consider reappointment with tenure (including reappointment with early tenure) of tenure-track faculty members. All tenured faculty members of the department shall be included as voting members of the departmental tenure committee of a faculty member who is eligible for reappointment with tenure or who applies for early tenure, with the exception of faculty members on approved leaves of absence, unless such faculty members on approved leave notify the department chairperson of their intention to participate as voting members and attend relevant meetings of the departmental tenure committee. The department chairperson shall be the chairperson of each departmental tenure committee, except in the event that the department chairperson is not tenured and has been appointed department chairperson pursuant to a waiver granted by the Board of Section 9.1.b of the Board Bylaws, in which event the tenured faculty member who is most senior by reason of service as a tenured faculty member in the department shall be the chairperson of the departmental tenure committee. The positive votes of a majority of those eligible to vote shall be required for an affirmative recommendation for tenure.

C. Advisory Panels and Internal and External Evaluators.

The several departmental committees on tenure and promotion shall establish advisory panels consisting of three persons in the department who hold higher rank than the candidate, in the case of promotion, or three tenured persons in the case of tenure; one member of each advisory panel shall be chosen from a list of three submitted by the candidate. Where a department lacks a sufficient number of faculty who hold higher rank or tenure, qualifying members from other departments may be included in consultation with the dean, and subject to approval by the College President. The role of the advisory panel shall be to develop the departmental list of internal and external evaluators. The chairperson shall solicit letters of evaluation from all persons on the advisory panel’s list, as well as from all persons on the candidate’s list.

D. Chairperson’s Report.

The chairperson of the department shall prepare a chairperson’s report for each promotion and tenure candidate, except for promotion of candidates to a higher rank than that held by the chairperson, in which event the chairperson’s report shall be written by the chairperson of the promotions committee. The chairperson’s report shall contain the chairperson’s summation of the candidate’s record and evaluations and the chairperson’s recommendation on the personnel action.
E. Confidentiality.
The name and evaluations of the external and internal evaluators shall be treated as confidential and shall not be available to the candidate.

F. Appeals.
The negative vote of the aforementioned committees on a promotion or tenure candidacy may be appealed to the next higher committee, up to the College President.

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York approve the naming of the “Dave Fields Auditorium” at the CUNY School of Law.

EXPLANATION: Dave Fields, University Dean and Special Counsel to the Chancellor, has been devoted to the CUNY School of Law since before its founding; he was the staff director of the Queens President's Advisory Commission for the establishment of the “University School of Law at Queens College,” as it was then conceived. He was responsible for much of the behind-the-scenes work to found the CUNY Law School, the nation's first law school devoted exclusively to public interest law.

In addition to his role as University Dean, Fields also serves as parliamentarian on the CUNY Law faculty. A very special advocate for the CUNY Law School, in 2002 Fields was awarded the Dean’s Medal for his support.

In 2012, Dave Fields bequeathed $1 million to the CUNY School of Law. The funds will be used equally to support student scholarships and faculty and staff development. His generosity, through this gift, will have an enormous impact on CUNY Law’s ability to provide critical financial support to students and faculty alike.

In recognition of his extraordinary service to the CUNY School of Law and his generous bequest, it is recommended that the auditorium on the second floor of the Law School’s new building at 2 Court Square in Long Island City be named the “Dave Fields Auditorium.”

Statement of President William P. Kelly:

In 2002 when we first became interested in bringing Dagmar Herzog from Michigan State to The Graduate Center, we contacted more than a dozen senior scholars from across the country. Their responses were uniformly positive, indeed a striking leitmotif emerged from the letters we received. At a very early point in her career Dagmar Herzog was, we were, told a rising star who was to become in the words of Anson Rabinbach at Princeton one of the most innovative and productive scholars of her generation. She was according to V. R. Burnham, the Sethelo professor at Columbia, one of the most productive and imaginative historians of modern Germany of her generation. Far from hyperbolic, these assessments accorded with her own sense of Prof. Herzog's achievement and of her promise that judgment was predicated primarily on two deeply engaging books, both published by Princeton University Press. These books linked to religious thinking, intimate life and public policy in modern Germany. The first of those books, Intimacy and Exclusion: Religious Politics in Pre-Revolutionary Baden, examined the ways in which debates within the German Christian Community over sexuality, women's rights and the status of Jews contributed to the formation of liberalism as a political force by re-centering religion as a primary element in the development of German liberalism. Prof. Herzog reset the scholarly agenda, producing in the words of Prof. Michael Guyer of the University of Chicago a paradigmatic effect which required scholars to think differently about 19th Century German politics and the relation of those politics to religious life.

Prof. Herzog's second book, which was in production during her recruitment shifted her focus to 20th Century German history into the central role sexuality played in German politics during and after the Third Reich, Sex After Fascism: Memory and Morality in Twentieth-Century Germany, traces the ways in which sexual morality was mobilized for political ends in both West and East Germany as debates over sexual morays during the Nazi era became a vehicle for defining Germany's relation to its past and its conception of the future. That these books were supported by three significant collections of essays, service on major editorial boards and deep involvement in holocaust education programs fueled our desire to bring Prof. Herzog to The City University of New York.

The decision has yielded rich dividends in the decade that she has been with us. Prof. Herzog has shed the tag of emerging star or Wunderkind. She is now without question one of the world's leading historians of Germany and indeed of European and American life in the 19th and 20th Centuries. To call her prolific is to do scant service. She has produced two more influential monographs, Sex in Crisis: The New Sexual Revolution and the Future of American Politics published by Basic Books and Sexuality in Europe: A Twentieth-Century History published by Cambridge University Press. Two other books are in progress, With History in Mind: Psychoanalysis in a Postwar World and Reproductive Rights and Disability Rights in the European Union.

In addition, Prof. Herzog has published more than 30 scholarly articles and more than twenty reviews—you may have seen one in yesterday's New York Times Book Review—and six edited collections. Further, she is the recipient of some of the most significant honors in her field. She has a Mellon fellow at Harvard; a member of the School of Social Science at the Institute for Advanced Studies at Princeton; a fellow of the Institute for Advanced Studies & Humanities at ESSEN; a Frederick Burkhardt fellow at the American Council of Learned Societies; and a Day Scholar at Cornell. She has received significant grant support from the Social Science Research Council, the Ford Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Holocaust Educational Foundation. Earlier this Spring she was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship.

You will not be surprised to learn that the fifteen internationally eminent scholars whom we contacted during this process were unanimous in their view that Prof. Herzog had made path-breaking and enduring contributions in three critical fields, the history of religion, the history of the Holocaust and the history of gender and sexuality. Indeed, her innovative work at the intersection of those three fields has made it impossible to think of any of them as distinct disciplines. Nancy Cott, the Trumbull Professor of American History at Harvard told us that Prof. Herzog's work in the history of sexuality stands above that of virtually any other scholar because of its brilliant originality and inclusiveness. Omer Bartov, the Birkelund Professor of European History at Brown noted Prof. Herzog's cutting-edge methodologies and theoretical innovations and wrote that he can think of no one he would rather have as a member of his own department. Doris Bergen, the Wolfe Professor of Holocaust Studies at Toronto called Prof. Herzog's work on anti-Semitism and Holocaust memory indispensable.

I call your attention as well to Prof. Herzog's remarkable record as a teacher and a mentor. This Spring her students in the history program took it upon themselves to nominate her for the American Historical Association's Nancy Lyman Roper mentorship award. The standard packet for such nominations would include four or five testimonials. Prof. Herzog's students presented seventeen, each a glowing tribute to her care and her support. Prof. Herzog, one of those students wrote, has managed to combine the highest level of commitment to her own work with a genuine care for that of her students. For me the most inspiring of these letters came from a student whose work was distant from Prof. Herzog's home fields and whose mentorship required the mastery of another scholarly literature. Although I am an historian of Japan, he wrote, Prof. Herzog has generously accepted me as one of her students. She has written countless letters on my behalf, introduced me to dozens of scholars and tirelessly corrected my various applications, a daunting task given my non-native speaker's propensity for errors in grammar.

Finally, I note my gratitude to Chancellor Goldstein and to the members of this Board for the unfailing support of excellence at The Graduate Center and across the University, as that commitment enables us to attract and sustain faculty members of the caliber of Dagmar Herzog. It is with equal portions of pleasure and pride that I present Dagmar Herzog to you as a candidate, in fact, now as CUNY's most recent distinguished professor.

Statement of Prof. Dagmar Herzog:
I am sort of overwhelmed. It is funny to get an award for my scholarship when really I turned to writing to support my teaching habit. I knew I loved teaching when I entered my first classroom at Brown University as a graduate student. I was hooked and I have loved teaching ever since then, however I have never loved a University the way I love this one. I am so proud and so honored to be part of The City University system. I love the students and my colleagues. I certainly love my boss and the big boss over there. There is no other University that so combines and makes possible the synergy between scholarship teaching and outreach to the wider public and in my case that means work with the media, speaking to general audiences and also in my newest work on psychiatry and psychoanalysis, speaking with medical professionals and public health professionals, but this is an amazing institution and I am so privileged to be part of it. Thank you.

Statement of President Jennifer Raab:
It is my great pleasure to introduce to the Board, and to thank you for your support—Jeff Parsons' nomination for distinguished professor. Jeff, as you will hear, is an outstanding academic and I am also very proud and privileged to call him a close colleague and friend. Dr. Parsons is one of the world's leading experts in four areas of psychological and public health research; sexual health; substance use/abuse; the health of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgendered individuals; and, mostly prominently, HIV/AIDS prevention.

Dr. Parsons is one of our most prolific grant getters at Hunter College, bringing in over $30 million in research funds in twelve years with just recently two new RO-1s. Given the often controversial nature of Dr. Parsons' research and the sensitive and often taboo conclusions he reaches, I want to particularly thank Chairperson Schmidt, the Board of Trustees and Chancellor Goldstein for your support for this nomination. I believe it is one of the highest and strongest affirmations of academic freedom that his nomination has achieved such strong support throughout all levels of CUNY, completely on the merits and without regard to any controversy and conclusions that may arise from
Dr. Parsons' research and conclusions.

Among his many awards and honors, Dr. Parsons has won some of the most prestigious awards in his profession, the distinguished Scientific Achievement Award from the American Psychological Association for his research in LGBT issues, The John Money Award from the Society for the Scientific Study of Sexuality, the leading professional society of multi-disciplinary sexual health scientists. When political and science leaders need advice on matters related to HIV/AIDS, they call Jeff Parsons. He chairs one of the two NIH study sections that provide scientific review of all HIV related behavioral and social research. He is the editor in chief of Sexuality Research in Social Policy, an international interdisciplinary journal dedicated to empirical research on sexuality and its social science implications.

In the past two years alone he has been called upon by the National Institutes of Health, the Center for Disease Control and Prevention, the New York City Department of Health and even the White House to provide input to advance HIV/AIDS policy and research. The only mystery is how he managed to be as innovative and productive as a scientist when he is on speed dial for the federal government. When Jeff started working in AIDS research for almost all existing work focused on how to keep uninfected individuals from becoming HIV positive. Jeff was one of the first researchers in the world to focus his work on those already living with HIV and AIDS and studied the unique prevention issues within this population. He pioneered the detailed study of sexual risk practices and harm reduction strategies used by HIV positive people to reduce the risk of transmitting HIV.

One of the Hallmarks of Dr. Parsons' work and one of the keys to his success is that his work keeps evolving and now Dr. Parsons studies the risk of HIV infection within long standing gay relationships among other topics. His record of peer reviewed publications is over 200 and he is just forty-five years old which is quite astonishing. Jeff's work is outstanding as every one of his reviewers note, but just as important his work has a tremendous impact on people's lives. For example, Dr. Parsons developed and evaluated the only behavior intervention thus far that actually works to increase HIV medication adherence among HIV positive men and women. This intervention has been adopted and is being used across the US, in Thailand, China and South Africa. His work on the role that Meth use plays in dramatically increasing risky sexual behavior has directly informed public media campaigns in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and elsewhere to make people aware of the unique dangers of the substance.

As the 15th surgeon general of the United States Dr. Joycelyn Elders stated in her remarkable letter of recommendation for Jeff, if distinguished professor titles are reserved for faculty with records of exceptional performance by national and international standards of excellence in their profession, then certain Dr. Parsons scholarly contributions in terms of peer reviewed publications and federal grant funding qualifies him for such a distinction. I could not agree more with Dr. Elders and as Hunter College's president, I want to add how important it is to us at Hunter that Jeff accomplishes all he does while being an exceptional classroom teacher. Many professors struggle to get students enrolled to come to class, but even students who are not enrolled in Dr. Parsons' class come to hear him lecture, often to standing room only crowds. He is a fierce and dedicated mentor to countless doctoral students in psychology at The Graduate Center and has also stepped forward to mentor his colleagues in the department.

It takes a village, we believe, to make a distinguished professor and I want to spend a moment to thank a few people, first to our Executive Vice Chancellor and University Provost Alexandra Logue for her support for Jeff through the controversial nature. As we have discussed, Jeff's subject matter, to his research methods, to his findings are often highly controversial and often end up being cited by congress or press for their sensational nature. She provided her guidance and support for this nomination and also worked very well with us in responding to the fact that Jeff is well known at Hunter and CUNY for pushing many boundaries. I also want to thank our friend, Research Foundation President Richard Rothbard, who has worked closely with Jeff and us in making sure that we can accommodate all of Dr. Parsons many evolving needs for his research portfolio.

Finally, Rita Rabinowitz, our Provost, who has been very supportive in both hiring Jeff when she was chair of the Psychology Department and nurturing his career as associate provost and as provost. Behind every great man there are often other great man and we want to thank today Jeff's partner Chris and particularly their son Henry. Now Henry asked a very important question regarding the distinguished professor nomination, which was whether it came with a trophy. So, Henry, I was wondering if you could come up and get your father's trophy. It is a great pleasure to introduce Dr. Jeff Parsons, Henry’s dad and our new distinguished professor.

Statement of Dr. Jeffrey T. Parsons:
This is an incredible honor and I have been called many things in my life, both professionally and personally, but distinguished has never been one of them. This is quite a treat and I am honored and humbled to be here and to be given this honor. I really want to acknowledge and thank the amazing women who participated in this process and my own professional development.

First of all, President Raab, no academic could wish for a more dedicated and supportive president. It is just impressive and thrilling to be able to work with you. As she has indicated being supportive of me is not always easy when I end up on news reports and when my research gets twisted for political purposes. When she first tried to reach out to me on my cell phone I missed her call so my immediate reaction was to Google my own name to see if some new scandalous report had come out before I called her back. Having not seen my name in Google, I was able to call her and she told me the good news. It is that type of relationship that we have and that I treasure and enjoy very much.

Provost Rita Rabinowitz, who hired me when she was chair of psychology has been an amazing and supportive influence and she hired me about twelve years ago when I proceeded to make her life difficult pretty much ever since. Her unwavering support and belief in the type of work that we do and how it can change and stabilize means very much to me and it is hard to imagine anybody who could be more professionally and personally supportive of the type of work. She brought me to Hunter College when I was young and saw the potential in me and nurtured it and supported it to help me become the scientist that I am today and I am always going to be grateful for that.

I would also like to thank my chair, Vanya Quinones-Jenab of the Hunter College Psychology Department. I could not have a better leader and I say that as the former chair. I am really particularly proud that Hunter College and CUNY have recognized someone like me who does controversial psychological health research that is focused on sexuality and sexual risk behavior with this type of honor. Unlike many other institutions, CUNY values scientific merit and advancing knowledge rather than shying away from controversy. I also share this honor with the many wonderful and amazing CUNY students that I have really had the pleasure to work with and I am glad that I have the opportunity here at CUNY to train the next generation of scientists who are going to focus on sexual health research and continue to advance the field forward.

I find it amazing that former Surgeon General Joycelyn Elders wrote a letter of support for my promotion and I think of how far we have come. In 1994, Joycelyn Elders was fired from her position as surgeon general of the United States for talking about masturbation and now eighteen years later I am promoted to distinguished professor for talking about gay sex. I think we have come quite a ways. The work that we do at my research center does save and change lives and so it is something that we all take incredibly seriously and are very focused on. We like to say that we take our work seriously but we do not take ourselves seriously and I think it is that balance that makes us able to do the very sensitive and oftentimes challenging work that we do, but still maintain the balance between professional work and our personal lives. I have had the privilege to work with so many wonderful colleagues in my research center over the years and every day I get to go to work is an exciting prospect and a wonderful day and it is gratifying to be recognized for that type of work.

Finally, I want to thank the men in my life, my partner of twenty-three years, Chris and our amazing son Henry, who you just got to meet. They are my motivation and my inspiration and my joy on a daily basis, we laugh together and love each other so much, and they make a lot of sacrifices so that I can do the type of work that I do. I hope that Henry will realize that even though this award does not normally come with a trophy that it is an incredible honor and eventually he will fully understand what it means and I hope that he will be very proud of his daddy Jeff. I thank you all very much.

Statement of President Jeremy Travis:
Chairperson Schmidt, Chancellor Goldstein, and members of the Board, it is with distinct pleasure that I come before you today to present John Matteson for appointment to the rank of CUNY Distinguished Professor of English at John Jay College and to take this opportunity to thank the Board for its support of that idea. Professor Matteson, I would like to point out will join seven other John Jay faculty members whose exceptional scholarship has earned them appointments as distinguished professors and the fact is that three of these are professors of history and the added fact that as of today John Matteson is Professor of English attests to the strength of the college's liberal arts faculty, the importance of the liberal arts to our mission of educating for justice and the quality of education we provide in the liberal arts which is now a renewed focus at John Jay thanks to the support of Chancellor Goldstein and the University.

John has a AB in History from Princeton and a PhD in English from Columbia and it might sound like that was a traditional pathway to an academic career, however, he also holds a JD from Harvard and first practiced as a litigating attorney in California and North Carolina and then made the brave, and for us gratuitous, decision to then pursue life as an academic and not a lawyer. John has spent over fifteen years at John Jay, during which he built an international reputation for his scholarship in 19th Century American Literary and Cultural History. In 2008, his double biography of Eden’s Outcasts: The Story of Louisa May Alcott and Her Father, Bronson Alcott, received the 2008 Pulitzer Prize in Biography.

Chancellor Goldstein will recall that we learned of this decision by the Pulitzer Committee when he came to John Jay for what he thought was a rather routine meeting with the members of our faculty, we were then interrupted by the news that John had won the Pulitzer. Within five years of that extraordinary achievement John has now published The Lives of Margaret Fuller, a book that was even more enthusiastically received than its Pulitzer prize winning predecessor, with glowing reviews in the New York Times and the Wall Street Journal, the Boston Globe, the Minneapolis Star Tribune, Cleveland Plain Dealer and the New Yorker among many other newspapers and magazines. Distinguished Professor Joel Myerson writes that “this book will solidify Matteson’s reputation as one of the finest literary biographers writing today. Indeed, I would place him in terms of 19th Century American literature at the top.”

Prof. Matteson's external letters of evaluation from some of the leading scholars of 19th Century American literature attest to his unusual ability to combine deep and ground breaking archival research with insightful literary criticism. As to the quality of his writing the consensus is that Prof. Matteson is a distinguished stylist, his prose is described as elegant, graceful, clear, beautiful, dramatically suspenseful and eloquent. He is described as drawing effortlessly from literary, intellectual, cultural, and social history, as well as a deep knowledge of human nature that conveys how individuals both shape and are shaped by their world. Prof. Gregory Iselin writes that Eden’s Outcasts: The Story of Louisa May Alcott and Her Father is without question the best biographical work done on the Alcotts.

Prof. Matteson is a fellow of the Massachusetts Historical Society, a former fellow of the Leon Levy Center for Biography where he now serves as deputy director. He has contributed his scholarship to such organizations and activities as the Louisa May Alcott Memorial Association, the National Endowment of the Humanities Landmarks Program, the Louisa May Alcott Society, The Harriet Beecher Stowe Center, and the Biographer’s International organization. His work has appeared in the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times, the Harvard Theological Review, the New England Quarterly and Leviathan, a journal of Melville studies.

Closer to home Prof. Matteson has also received the Distinguished Faculty Award presented by the John Jay College Alumni Association. In addition to being a distinguished scholar Prof. Matteson is also a beloved teacher and mentor and an active citizen of the college serving most recently as the faculty director of the John Jay Honors program, which paved the way for John Jay’s admission to the Macaulay Honors College. There is no doubt in my mind that Prof. Matteson will continue to be as productive and well regarded as a scholar in the coming years as he had been this past decade. He is presently under contract with Norton for an annotated edition of Little Women. His article on Margaret Fuller’s Summer on the Lakes has been accepted for publication in 19th century prose. He is working on a prospectus for biography of Oliver Wendell Holmes. He shows no signs of slowing his pace. Now with the Board’s approval in hand, we happily welcome John Matteson into the ranks of distinguished professor in the discipline of English in his home at John Jay College.

Statement of Prof. John Matteson:
I concur with my fellow admittees that this is really quite overwhelming. I do thank you all. It has been said that overnight success takes 15 years. It is either a common coincidence or evidence of the eternal fitness of things that I
I thought it was over, but then along came developed laryngitis for the first and only time in my life and at the interview could barely speak. To three MLA conferences in consecutive years, secured a total of one job interview. On the plane to that interview, I conference papers as my grad school colleagues were doing. I had my hands full just writing my dissertation. I went the following evening. He showed me an ad in the Chronicle of Higher Ed an advertising position for a professor who could teach for whom I had become the primary caregiver, and so there was no chance for me to publish articles or give an instructor, when nobody else believed. In 1997, was not a fairy tale. I did build that ball field, and people have come. What matters now and what matters most to me gives me a shot and it was all that I needed. I am proud to give me a shot and it was all that I needed. I am proud to give me a shot and it was all that I needed. I am proud to give me a shot and it was all that I needed. I am proud to give me a shot and it was all that I needed. I am proud to say today how grateful I am. That movie, Field of Dreams, said, "If you build it, he will come." Amazingly enough, it was not a fairy tale. I did build that ball field, and people have come. What matters now and what matters most to me.
is that every day at The City University, countless people whom you and I have not met yet, people with faith and hope and no tools other than their hearts and minds and hands, are working on their own ball fields. Year by year, credit by credit, those ball fields slowly take their wondrous shapes. Every one of them looks different in the mind of the person who is building it. Some of them, sadly, will never be finished, but the fact that they are being built is the thing that is always to be remembered. It is this remarkable University that makes them possible. This University that we all serve is doing a mighty generous, irreplaceable work. Each day we continue to build it and thank heavens the people do come.

C. HOSTOS COMMUNITY COLLEGE - MASTER PLAN AMENDMENT:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York approve an Amendment to the Hostos Community College Master Plan, which has been developed to accommodate the anticipated needs of the College.

EXPLANATION: In 1984, the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York approved a Master Plan for Hostos Community College. This Amendment to that Master Plan proposes strategies to address the College’s anticipated growth and the need to modernize facilities on campus to provide adequate instructional space and student support services.

Hostos Community College is located on a 5.8 acre campus in a triangular shaped section of the South Bronx bounded by Interstate 87 and the East River on the west and the Metro North Railroad on the east and north. The main academic buildings of the campus, the Allied Health Building, East Academic Complex and 500 Grand Concourse, are located along the Grand Concourse south of 149th Street. The campus has been expanding to the west along Walton Avenue with the building of the Savoy Building at 149th Street and conversion of an old garage for support functions at 146th Street. Two trailer sites in the same area are utilized by the Campus Facilities Department and the Hostos Immigration Center. The most recent acquisition for the campus is 135 East 144th Street, “the Carpet Building,” at the corner of East 144th Street and Walton Avenue. These facilities provide a total of 348,029 net assignable square feet (NASF).

Based on the Fall 2009 enrollment of 4,488 full-time equivalent students (FTES), Hostos Community College has a current space need of 470,177 net assignable square feet (NASF) when benchmarked against similar community colleges. The current conditions represent a deficit of 122,148 NASF.

This Master Plan Amendment is based on a projected 2020 college enrollment of 6,528 FTES, requiring a total of 540,390 NASF. The projected conditions represent a deficit of 192,361 NASF (350,000 GSF). To meet this projected space need, the Master Plan Amendment calls for new construction and the renovation of existing facilities.

The City University Construction Fund (CUCF) Board of Trustees approved the selection of the design firm of Mitchell Giurgola Architects on October 22, 2008, Item 3, Resolution No. 2015.

D. HUNTER COLLEGE - SCIENCE AND HEALTH PROFESSIONS PROJECT:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of the City University of New York (the “Board”) authorizes the City University of New York (“CUNY”) to undertake a public-private project (the “Project”) with Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center (“MSKCC”) for: (i) the acquisition of vacant land at 525 East 73rd Street (Manhattan Block 1485, Lot 15) (the “73rd Street Property”) from the New York City Economic Development Corporation (“NYCEDC”); and (ii) the joint development with MSKCC of the 73rd Street Property, where CUNY will develop on its portion of the 73rd Street Property the Hunter College Science and Health Professions building (the “Hunter College Science Building”); and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board authorizes CUNY to obtain all required land use approvals, and governmental approvals, for the development of the New Hunter College Science Building at the 73rd Street Property; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board authorizes CUNY to expend State appropriated funds for the purpose of developing temporary space for the Brookdale Campus programs and for the purpose of developing the Hunter College Science Building; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board certify that a portion of the Brookdale Campus will no longer be used for senior college purposes, allowing it to be transferred to the City of New York (“City”), pursuant to Section 6219 of the New York State Education Law, as CUNY’s consideration for its portion of the 73rd Street Property; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board authorizes the General Counsel to execute all agreements in connection with the Project, including a Contract of Sale and any related documents with NYCEDC for the acquisition of the 73rd Street Property and a Memorandum of Understanding, a development agreement and any related documents with MSKCC, or another affiliate of MSKCC, for the joint development of the 73rd Street Property, subject to their approval by the University Office of the General Counsel; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board requests the City University Construction Fund to authorize and execute any documents related to the Project, if necessary or desired by CUNY.
EXPLANATION: CUNY is entering into a public-private partnership with MSKCC to acquire and jointly develop the 73rd Street Property. A New York City Department of Sanitation garage formerly occupied the 73rd Street Property. The joint development at the 73rd Street Property will include (i) the Hunter College Science Building, a new 300,000 square foot science building for Hunter College to serve the Schools of Nursing and Health Professions and science classes and laboratories and (ii) a new 700,000 square foot outpatient cancer center for MSKCC.

Currently, Hunter’s health sciences and nursing programs are located on the Hunter Brookdale campus at East 25th Street and First Avenue. CUNY’s contribution to the acquisition of the 73rd Street Property will be a portion of the Brookdale campus, which will be transferred to the City. As a result, the programs at Brookdale will need to be temporarily relocated until the Hunter College Science Building is completed.

CUNY has identified space that can be renovated at Fiorello H. LaGuardia Community College’s Center 3 Building to house the Brookdale programs temporarily. Approximately 85,000 square feet of space in Center 3 will be renovated. When the Brookdale programs vacate the Center 3 space to move to the Hunter College Science Building, the space will be turned over to LaGuardia Community College for its use. The Center 3 renovation will be developed in accordance with LaGuardia Community College’s Master Plan.

Land Use approvals for the 73rd Street Property are expected to be complete by the Fall of 2013. Construction of the temporary space at LaGuardia’s Center 3 is anticipated to be complete by the Fall of 2015. Combined, these phases are estimated to cost approximately $54 million of existing State appropriated funds. The Hunter College Science Building is estimated to cost $450 million in State appropriated funds and is anticipated to be complete by Fall 2019.

E. HUNTER COLLEGE - WEILL CORNELL MEDICAL COLLEGE AGREEMENTS:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of the City University of New York (the “Board”) authorize the City University of New York (“CUNY”) to undertake a public-private project (the “Project”) with Weill Cornell Medical College (“Weill Cornell”) for the acquisition by CUNY, on behalf of Hunter College, of a full research floor (the “Hunter Research Floor”) at the new 18 story medical research facility being constructed by Weill Cornell at 413 East 69th Street, New York, NY (Block 1464, Lot 8) (the “WC Research Building”); and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board authorizes the General Counsel to execute and/or approve all agreements, and the taking of such actions, in connection with the Project, including approval of condominium documents for the WC Research Building, execution of acquisition documents for CUNY’s acquisition of the Hunter Research Floor as a condominium unit, approval of zoning variance documents to allow Hunter College personnel to operate at the WC Research Building, execution of joint-venture documents in connection with the joint application by CUNY and Weill Cornell of grants for WC Research Building programs, and any other documents related thereto, subject to their approval by the University Office of General Counsel; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board requests the City University Construction Fund (“CUCF”) to authorize and execute any documents related to the Project, if necessary or desired by CUNY; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board hereby ratifies, confirms and approves any of the foregoing matters that have been done on or before the date hereof.

EXPLANATION: CUNY intends to purchase, on behalf of Hunter College, the Hunter Research Floor, a condominium unit consisting of the 4th floor of the WC Research Building. As the owner of a floor at the WC Research Building, Hunter College will enjoy joint use of a vivarium, conference rooms, lounges, cafeteria and other common areas. The WC Research Building is scheduled to be completed for Spring 2014 occupancy. It is anticipated the researchers from Hunter College who utilize the facility will generate a substantial amount of federal and other grants in support of the operation.

The above agreements will formalize the respective roles of Weill Cornell and CUNY with respect to the acquisition and operation of the WC Research Building, which will be managed by an affiliate of Weill Cornell.
The purchase price of $65.0 million is supported by two appraisals performed at CUNY’s request. The Dormitory Authority of The State of New York will finance the purchase cost through a State appropriation and the Project is subject to approval by the NY State Attorney General and NY State Comptroller.

On June 27, 2011, Cal. No. 7.H., the Board authorized CUNY to enter into a Letter of Intent (“LOI”) for the Project. The LOI was executed on October 4, 2011.

F. MEDGAR EVERS COLLEGE - AMENDMENT TO POOL RENOVATION - CARROLL STREET BUILDING:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York amends the Resolution adopted at the regular meeting of the Trustees of The City University of New York held on April 27, 2009, Calendar No B-6., to execute a CM/Build contract on behalf of Medgar Evers College to renovate the Pool Facility located in the Carroll Street building. The contract cost chargeable to the State Capital Construction Fund, Project No. CA200ME03, for an amount not to exceed $2.2M (Construction and Management Services) has increased to an amount not to exceed $3.3M; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of the City University of New York authorizes the General Counsel to amend the previously approved CM/Build contract in the amount of $2.2M, for renovations to the existing pool facility, to an amount not to exceed $3.3M.

EXPLANATION: The Fund on behalf of the City University of New York reconstructed the existing pool in the Carroll Street building. Due to unforeseen conditions, modifications to the mechanical, electrical, and pool gutter systems were required during the construction phase. In addition, the College requested an increase in scope to modify the pool area and women’s locker room in order to comply with ADA guidelines. These changes result in an increase of design, construction and management fees.

G. QUEENS COLLEGE - CAMPUS-WIDE FIRE ALARM PROJECT PHASE 1:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York authorize the Executive Director to execute a Purchase Order for the services to design, purchase and install Fire Alarm Systems in Klapper Hall, Science Building, and Music Building including Central Monitoring Station at Queens College under existing New York State Office of General Services Contract. The total cost of all such purchases shall be chargeable to the State Capital Construction Fund, Project No. 3087209999 for an amount of not to exceed $6,000,000.

EXPLANATION: The fire alarm systems at Klapper Hall, Science Building, and Music Building are not in compliance with the current New York City Building and Fire Codes and are not functional. In order to use these buildings to have the required fire safety, the fire alarm systems in these buildings must be replaced immediately.

NO. 7. COMMITTEE ON STUDENT AFFAIRS AND SPECIAL PROGRAMS: RESOLVED, That the following items be approved:

A. LAGUARDIA COMMUNITY COLLEGE - STUDENT ACTIVITY FEE INCREASE:

RESOLVED, That the student activity fee paid by full-time students at LaGuardia Community College be increased from $55.85 to $67.85 per semester and from $20.85 to $26.85 per semester for part-time students, effective Fall 2012, in accordance with the following schedule:

The entire student activity fee, with the exception of the University Student Senate Fee, shall be allocated by the College Association.

EXPLANATION: The student activity fee schedule represents a $12.00 increase in the full-time student activity fee and a $6.00 increase in the part-time student activity fee schedules. The increase is to be allocated by the College Association and earmarked for the establishment of Intercollegiate Athletics at LaGuardia Community College.

A referendum was held in accordance with University Bylaw Section 16.12(b), in conjunction with student government elections held May 7-10, 2012. The vote was 809 in favor and 390 opposed, with 7.7% of the eligible students voting on the referendum. The college president supports this first fee increase in 13 years because she believes that the introduction of intercollegiate athletics has the potential to positively augment student life at the college. LaGuardia Community College is the only undergraduate CUNY college without an intercollegiate athletic program.

The Income Generating Account portion of the fee is used for fund-raising events to support student activities at the college, and funds allocated thereto are ultimately budgeted by the college association for student fee.

Earmarkings set forth in the Board resolution may only be changed by further Board actions.

B. CITY COLLEGE - STUDENT ACTIVITY FEE INCREASE - UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS:

RESOLVED, That the student activity fee paid by undergraduate students at City College be increased from $49.35 to $64.35 per semester for full-time students and from $33.35 to $40.85 per semester for part-time students, effective the Fall 2012 semester, in accordance with the following schedule:

EXPLANATION: The student activity fee schedule represents an increase of $15.00 for full-time undergraduate students, $7.50 for part-time undergraduate students, and a $4.00 increase in the undergraduate summer session student activity fee. A referendum was held in accordance with University Bylaw section 16.12, in conjunction with student government elections held April 24-26, 2012.

This increase will be earmarked for athletics, recreation and intramurals and will be allocated by the Student Faculty Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics. The new earmarkings will now total $30.00 for full-time students, $12.50 for part-time students and a new $4.00 earmarking will be established for summer session. The vote on the referendum was 1632 in favor and 1003 opposed, with 20% of the eligible student body voting. The College President supports the fee increase because the earmarking to athletics has not changed since 1985.

Within the Student Government fee, $1.00 is locally earmarked for concerts and $4.00 is locally earmarked to Student Government for student government, clubs and other student activities. The College Association fee is used to support the Student Center, Child Care, the Safety Services, and other student activities, with $2.00 locally earmarked to support a Child Care Center and $1.00 for the City College Safety Service. Local earmarkings at the College have been established and are subject to change at the College in accordance with the referendum process set forth in University Bylaw section 16.12, provided there is no change in the total fee. The earmarkings set forth in the resolution may only be changed by further Board action.

The voting composition of the Committee on Student Health Services consists for five students, three administrators and one faculty member. The voting composition of the Student Faculty Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics consists of three faculty members and three students; and the Media Board consists of three faculty members, five students, and the Chairperson on the College Association.

The student activity fee allocated by NYPIRG is refundable, in accordance with procedures subject to the approval of the College President.

On June 28, 1999, the CUNY Board of Trustees approved amendments to the City College Governance Plan which merged the Day and Evening Student Governments into one undergraduate student government. Accordingly, the student activity fee schedule for Day Session Undergraduate students at City College, as approved by the Board of Trustees on June 24, 1996, of $49.35 for full-time students and $33.35 for part-time students was established as the consolidated Undergraduate Student Activity Fee.

C. (ADDED ITEM) THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK - AMENDMENTS TO THE POLICY ON PAYMENT OF STIPENDS TO STUDENT LEADERS:

RESOLVED, That the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York adopt the following amended policy on the payment of stipends to student leaders. The Board believes and intends that service as a student leader should be an educational experience. Recognizing the educational role of student leadership positions, the Board, while not encouraging the payment of stipends, believes some stipend payments to student leaders should be allowed within the parameters outlined below:
1. Stipend payments to student leaders shall be limited to two (2) years in the University, except:

   a. A student leader elected to an office of the University Student Senate shall be allowed three (3) years of stipend payments, with no more than two (2) years of the payments as an officer of the University Student Senate.

   b. A student who receives two (2) years of stipend payments as an undergraduate student leader, shall be permitted a third (3rd) year of stipend payments as a graduate student leader.

   c. Co-chairs of the Doctoral Students’ Council at The Graduate School and University Center shall be permitted a third (3rd) year of stipend payments as a graduate student leader.

2. The amount of stipend payments to student leaders shall be limited as follows:

   a. College student leaders shall be limited to a maximum of [$4,028] $4,490 per year effective July 1, 2012 and $4,950 per year effective July 1, 2013 [and] or no more than [$2,014] $2,245 per semester effective July 1, 2012 and $2,475 per semester effective July 1, 2013.

   b. The Chairperson of the University Student Senate shall be limited to a maximum of [$8,750] $9,752 per year effective July 1, 2012 and $10,754 per year effective July 1, 2013 [and] or no more than [$4,375] $4,876 per semester effective July 1, 2012 and $5,377 per semester effective July 1, 2013.

   c. Vice-chairpersons of the University Student Senate shall be limited to a maximum of [$5,102] $5,686 per year effective July 1, 2012 and $6,270 per year effective July 1, 2013 [and] or no more than [$2,551] $2,843 per semester effective July 1, 2012 and $3,135 per semester effective July 1, 2013.

   d. Co-chairs of the Doctoral Students’ Council at The Graduate School and University Center shall be limited to a maximum equal to the minimum salary for the title of Graduate Assistant B.

3. No student leader shall for the same period receive more than one stipend, or be an employee of or receive any other compensation from a student activity fee allocating body.

4. The Chancellor or his or her designee shall, every two years, review the schedule of stipend payments, and report to the Board on any adjustments he or she recommends as being appropriate, in relationship to any changes in the Consumer Price Index (CPI).

NOTE: Matter underlined is new; matter in brackets is deleted.

In accordance with the Board policy, the Chancellor has reviewed the schedule of stipend payments since stipends were last increased in July 2004. The proposed revisions increase the maximum allowable stipends by 11.45% on July 1, 2012 and by 11.45% on July 1, 2013, in accordance with the 22.9% increase in the Consumer Price Index (CPI), for all urban consumers in New York City and [Northeastern] Northern New Jersey, from July 2004 through May 2012. By increasing the maximum stipend amounts over a two year period, the USS and College Associations will have a better opportunity to budget for any approved stipend increases up to the revised maximum limits. The implementation of the increase and the amounts to be paid to student leaders shall be determined by the Chancellor.
Report of Student Affairs and Special Programs Committee Chair Kathleen M. Pesile:

Mr. Chairman, I have two information items I would like to share with the Board at this time. I would personally like to thank Vice President for Student Affairs, Ramona Brown, and her staff, at the College of Staten Island for the terrific job they did in helping me to coordinate a very successful first initiative in showcasing CSI Honors students with a visit to the office of the New York State Comptroller, Thomas DiNapoli, last week. Comptroller DiNapoli was very gracious and spent over an hour with the students who were in awe of this experience, which for most, represented the first time they would meet any high-ranking official. We are now in collaboration with the Comptroller's Office to schedule students from Baruch College for next semester. In addition, I would like to acknowledge the CUNY Coalition of Students with Disabilities for their continuing participating in the 107th Annual AKC Staten Island Kennel Dog Show, which was held at the College of Staten Island this past weekend. Their support was well-appreciated by the many exhibitors, as well as the show dogs.
