RESOLVED, that The CUNY Institute for Implementation Science Research in Population Health be established at The CUNY Graduate School of Public Health and Health Policy of the CUNY Graduate School and University Center effective May 2, 2016, subject to financial ability.

EXPLANATION: This institute will conduct large-scale multidisciplinary research studies on population health and on intervention implementation in real world settings.